HER BIRTHDAY GIFT

Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, Now of Age, to Receive $12,000,000.

SHE IS NOW IN EUROPE

But Will Sail for America Soon To Be Present at the Redistribution of the Great Vanderbilt Fortune that Will Occur at an Early Date.

New York, Aug. 28.—Miss Gladys Vanderbilt's twenty-first birthday occurred when, according to the will of her father, the late Cornelius Vanderbilt, she came into absolute possession of the estate left in trust for her, which amounts to $12,500,000. She is the youngest of the direct heirs to the vast fortune amassed by the third head of the house of Vanderbilt. She and her mother have been cruising in the Mediterranean, taking the waters in the south of France and hunting through the curio shops of Paris for rare old bronzes, of which they have secured quite a number, for the spacious halls of The Breakers, their Newport home.

Mrs. Vanderbilt has cabled to have The Breakers opened. She and Gladys Vanderbilt are coming over for the late season and incidentally for business reasons, the redistribution of the Vanderbilt millions which according to that document of fatherly love and wrath, the Vanderbilt will, was to be finally adjusted when Gladys came of age.

Clerks and accountants have been busy for many months at the office of the Vanderbilt estate at Forty-second street and Madison avenue making preparations for this settlement of the vast fortune.

PANIC ENSUED.

Angry Lion Attacked His Trainer and Terribly Lacerated Him.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 28.—Several women and children were injured during a panic at a local pleasure resort as the result of a lion making an attack upon Captain J. F. Briggs, a tamer and performer. The beast laid bare the tamer's left arm by a blow of its paw and lacerated the man's thigh with its teeth. The lion was subdued by attendants.

A panic seized the spectators and many women fainted.

In the rush to escape, women and children were trampled upon. Aside from Captain Briggs, no one was seriously hurt.

THIS YOUTH UNFORTUNATE.

Had Fingers Crushed, Returns to His Work, and Loses Leg and Arm.

Paterson, N. J., Aug. 28.—After three weeks' idleness, due to having three fingers of his hand crushed off at the Passaic steel works, James Butler, 16 years of age, Monday returned to work and was not long at his machine when his trousers caught in the wheels.

The boy's leg was crushed in the cogs, and while endeavoring to save himself, his left arm was drawn into the machinery, too. Both were amputated.

On Evangelistic Work.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 28.—The annual meeting of the Presbyterian general assembly committee on evangelistic work began here Tuesday and will continue over Wednesday. The committee will apportion among the various synods throughout the United States the amount each shall have for evangelistic purposes. The committee will contribute largely to the south and southwest with a view to increasing the work in those sections.

Tornado Tossed Baby to Death.

Wheeling, W. Va., Aug. 28.—A tornado struck the town of Woodsfield and New Castle, O., Monday, wrecking a number of buildings and doing other damage. The home of Samuel Barnhus, near Woodsfield, was entirely destroyed and a two-year-old child killed. The child was torn from its mother's arms and carried nearly a quarter of a mile.

CONVICTS ESCAPE.

Knock Guard Senseless and Make a Dash for Liberty.

Moultrie, Ga., Aug. 28.—At a county convict camp temporarily set up seven miles north of Moultrie, a guard was assaulted Monday night, and probably fatally wounded, while five of the prisoners made their escape into the adjacent country. There were eleven convicts in the squad under one white man, S. W. Smith, who was guard and superintendent of road work.

The convicts were kept in portable cells on cars and on Sunday were given more than customary liberty. On Monday night, before the car had been locked, the guard went in to pick up some articles that lay in the corner of the car when one of the prisoners struck him across the back of the head with a heavy iron ladle used in soldering. A severe gash resulted from the blow, and the man fell unconscious.

Seven of the convicts made their escape, but after a time two of them came back to the camp. Four refused to leave the camp and sent word to Moultrie of the affair. The county physician went at once to attend Guard Smith and found him barely alive. He gave it as his opinion that he could not survive from the wound. An effort was made to get track dogs from Thomasville, but it was unsuccessful. A number of deputies have been sent out after the escaped men, who had about 12 hours the start of them.

PRINCE ENTERTAINED.

Wilhelm of Sweden Given Numerous Receptions at Boston.

Boton, Mass., Aug. 28.—Prince Wilhelm of Sweden, duke of Sondermanland, after a strenuous round of entertainment and receptions Monday night, which terminated a day of constant activity, during which he received the heartiest of receptions, made an early start on his last day in this city Tuesday with a breakfast given by Mayor Fitzgerald, at which Governor Guild, Baron de Lagercrantz, the Swedish minister to the United States, G. A. Rosentwist, the consul from Sweden in this city, and prominent business men of the city, were present.

Following the breakfast, Prince Wilhelm was taken on an automobile tour of Boston and Cambridge, during which he inspected the buildings of Harvard University and historical points of interest in both cities. At the conclusion of the tour he was driven to the Somerset club, where a private dinner in his honor was given by Hon. James R. Kidder at which Governor Guild was present.

Macon, Ga., Aug. 28.—News has been received in Macon that Colonel John F. Gaynor has been allowed permission to go to Indian Springs, 45 miles from Macon, in order to regain his failing strength. The order was signed by the judge of the circuit court of appeals and by the attorney general of the United States. Benjamin Green will remain in the Macon jail. Gaynor is troubled with asthma, and has had an attack of locomotor ataxia. He is quite feeble and the change will probably do him great good. Deputy Riley, of the United States court, will accompany Gaynor.

London, Aug. 28—The members of the United States immigration commission, of which Senator William R. Dillingham, of Vermont, is the head, after spending a few days in England, most of the time sight-seeing and gathering data regarding the working of the new English alien immigration law, Tuesday went to Liverpool from whence they will sail for New York on August 29.

TROUBLE IN IRELAND

Farrell, M.P., and Forty Irish Nationalists Arrested.

BE TRIED BY SPECIAL COURT

It Is Claimed the Parliament Member and Others Took Part In "An Unlawful Assembly Likely to Cause a Riot."

Longford, Ireland, Aug. 28.—Jas P. Farrell, Irish Nationalist, member of parliament for North Longford, and forty others were arrested early Tuesday morning and are now being tried by a special court, convened for the purpose, on the charge of taking part in "an unlawful assembly likely to cause a riot."

Mr. Farrell had been holding meetings throughout his constituency, at which exciting scenes occurred between Nationalists and members of the Sinn Fein society.

In addition, many cattle have been driven from the grazing lands in the district, which the prosecution alleges was encouraged by Mr. Farrell and other speakers. Large forces of police are being despatched here, as trouble is being anticipated.

Mr. Farrell is the editor and proprietor of the Longford Leader, a nationalist newspaper circulting in the counties of Longford and Leitrim and is the author of a "History of the County of Longford."

At the general election of 1900, Mr. Farrell was returned unopposed from North Longford, succeeding Justin McCarthy, who resigned.

MARTYR TO SCIENCE.

Dr. Powell's Fatal Experiments with Carbolic Acid.

New York, Aug. 28.—Dr. Seneca D. Powell, whose name will go down in the history of medicine as a martyr to science, lies dead at his home in Greenwich, Conn., as the result of constant drinking of carbolic acid for three years to prove that pure alcohol is an antidote for the poison.

Few chapters in the history of how men have battled against disease equal the one furnished by Dr. Powell. He graduated as an M. D. in 1869, from the Medical School of New York university, and at once plunged into exhaustive experiments with poisons.

One after another he pondered methods of neutralizing the effects of deadly fluids and powders, and year after year he added to the sum total of his colleagues' knowledge of the dread liquids.

Augustus Powell, Dr. Powell's father, was a rich planter, living in Alabama, where the doctor was born. The father was quartermaster in the confederate army in which Dr. Powell also served.

MARRIAGE IN MAYFAIR.

English Officer In Indian Army Weds American Girl.

London, Aug. 28.—There was a large gathering of British military men and Americans at Christ church, Mayfair, Tuesday afternoon, for the marriage of Miss Mary Mactier Latrobe, daughter of the late R. Stewart Latrobe, of Baltimore, to Colonel Arthur P. D. Harrison, of the fifth Light infantry, Indian army.

After the ceremony there was a reception which was attended by intimate friends.

Colonel and Mrs. Harris will proceed in October to India where the colonel will resume command of his regiment.

She Threw Carbolic Acid.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 28.—Jay Golloghy, attendant at the Bailey sanitarium, died Monday in great agony from the effects of carbolic acid thrown in his face during the night by an insane patient named Irene Nickel. The woman has been kept handcuffed because of her frenzies, but she secured her freedom in some way and took the acid from the medicine chest. The woman has an insane delusion that the attendant had been trying to kill her.

MRS. CADE GRANTED BAIL.

Alabama Woman Who Killed Her Husband Held in $300 Bail.

Eufaula, Ala., Aug. 28.—Mrs. Levi Cade, who, it is charged, murdered her husband near the city last week by shooting him in the head while he was lying on the bed, was arrested and brought before Precinct Judge [illegible] J. Clayton. She promptly waived a preliminary hearing and was granted bail in the sum of $300, which was made.

Mrs. Cade has given out a statement in which she said that on the evening of the killing her husband quarreled with her and greatly abused her, and finally beat her unmercifully with a stick. She was then ordered to leave the home, under a threat that he would kill her if she remained longer than morning. She agreed to leave until she was denied her children, and after some quarreling her husband reclined on the bed. After he became quiet she sezied his gun and placing it within two feet of his head, fired the fatal shot. She then fled to a nearby negro house and made known the story.

She further stated that her husband had been whipping her at intervals all during their married life and that she had rather hang than endure it any longer. Mrs. Cade's statement as to the whipping is corroborated by neighbors and evidences of marks on her person.

RIOT IN DALLAS.

Laundryman Attacked and Receives Rough Treatment.

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 28.—High rioting by a mob of between 50 and 75 men, occurred in the heart of this city at about 10:30 o'clock Monday night.

The crowd surrounded a man carrying a bundle of laundry and the leader, a burly man, accused the victim of being a "scab." This was indignantly denied, the man declaring he was in the employ of a laundry.

Many of the crowd seemed to believe this, and there were cries of "let him go; he's all right," etc., but the leader refused to believe this, and falling upon the victim, bore him, unresisting, to the ground.

Regaining his feet, the man eluded the grasp of his assaulter and ran, followed by the leader with the mob at some distance.

The object of the attack was knocked down four times in the first block, each time, according to eye-witnesses, offering no resistance, but, terrorized and crying for help at every step.

No arrests were made, and the police did not arrive until some time later. The laundryman escaped.

Pinned Under Auto Wreck.

New York, Aug. 28.—A giant touring car, driven by Carl Hanna, son of Dan Hanna, and loaded with eight of his friends, crashed into a butcher cart while dashing from Seabright to Asbury Park Monday. Every occupant of the automobile was badly injured; five, including Mr. Hanna, being pinned beneath the over-turned wreck of the machine for half an hour. The accident came while the party was on the way home after a grand ball given by young Hanna and his stepfather, Ed K. Stallo, at Pannaci's hotel, Seabright, N. J., to half a hundred wealthy friends who are living for the summer in that vicinity.

Japanese City Fire Swept.

Hakodate, Japan, Aug. 28.—Fire broke out Monday morning in the flimsy native structures of this seaport, and before it could be controlled, nearly 70 per cent of the city was in ashes. The flames spread with such rapidity that all the efforts of the firemen were in vain. With the exception of the American, all the consulates were burned. Great disorder prevails.

Clark's Fatal Mistake.

Senoia, Ga., Aug. 28.—Henry Clark, aged 89 years, was buried at Rocky Mount cemetery Sunday afternoon, services being conducted by Rev. W. A. Davis. Friday morning he was coughing badly and went to the medicine chest for a cough remery, but through mistake took a dose of liriment, which caused his death in less than five hours.

WAR ON BLACKHAND

Troops Ridding Pennsylvania of Murderous Order.

MORE THAN FIFTY ARRESTS

Police Have in Their Possession the Information Which Will Lead to the Arrest and Conviction of the Ringleaders.

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 28.—Effective war, it is announced, is being waged against the "black hand" throughout Pennsylvania by the state constabulary, and the indications are that the troops will soon rid the commonwealth of its murderous organizations.

The state police authorities are in possession of information that "black hand" operations are directed from central headquarters in New York, and that the agents effectually engaged in the work of intimidation are not all foreigners, some Americans being implicated.

For several months the state police department has been directing its attention largely to these operations, and is said to be in possession of a mass of information which will lead to the arrest and conviction of the ringleaders.

More than fifty arrests have been made by the state police in the last six months in connection with "black hand" operations.

Nearly all of these persons have been fined or imprisoned, though some are still awaiting trial.

MET INSTANT DEATH.

Touring Car Turned Complete Somersault, Killing Two Persons.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 28.—Waldo Merrill, member of a distinguished New England family, and himself a wealthy stock broker of Boston, with his chauffeur, Axel Landstrom, met instant death near Sanderstown, when his big touring car crashed down a steep hill and turned a complete somersault, alighting on top of its helpless passengers.

In the party were Mrs. Merrill and Mrs. Frederick Milliken and Mrs. Milliken, of Milton, Mass., all of whom were buried beneath the car, but with the exception of Miss Mrs. Millikin, escaped with a bad shaking up.

Merrill and the chauffeur, who were in the front seat, did all in their power to control the machine, and had succeeded in shutting off the engine before the crash came. They were found pinned beneath the forward part of the car, while the other members of the party, protected by the high back of the tonneau, escaped with bad bruises.

INSPECTORS MAKE ARREST.

Important Capture in Crusade Against Obscene Post Cards.

Philadelphia, Aug. 28.—Charged by United States postal inspectors with the wholesale selling of obscene postal cards, Gustave P. Lang, of this city, who traded under the name of the P. C. Novelty company, was arrested Tuesday and held in bail for trial.

The arrest of Lang is regarded as the most important capture yet made in the crusade against objectionable cards.

The case was brought to the attention of the authorities by a resident of Rome, N. Y., who received a sample series of postals.

The postal authorities say Lang is a wholesaler, and he has agents in many cities.

It is expected several other arrests will be made within a few days.

Editor Sun: As it seems to be the general impression of some people that I was the Goore who was the witness in the Boville whiskey case before the mayor on Tuesday morning, the proceedings of which were published in The Sun, I wish you would kindly state through your paper that it was not me, as I have served my full course as a witness in these cases and received my diploma. I have decided to lay it aside and quit the whole business.

JONESVILLE NEWS.

Delightful Fish by Young People on Banks of Horseshoe Pond.

Jonesville, Aug. 28.—One of the most enjoyable days that has passed for some time was last Thursday, when quite a crowd from here and Newberry met on the shores of Horseshoe pond and had a fish fry. We succeeded in getting plenty of fish and the ladies proved themselves masters of the art of frying them, with the result that at dinner we had plenty of fish and everything else that is good to eat. We are looking forward to another "fry" next Thursday at Barrel pond.

This community was o'ercast with gloom at the receipt of the news of the death of Mr. B. Sapp, which occurred at Raleigh last Friday night about 11 o'clock. Mr. Sapp lived here when he was a child, and the family have many friends here who extend sympathy in this their hour of bereavement.

We were sadly disappointed last Sunday at the non-appearance of our pastor, Rev. G. T. Taylor, who is conducting a protracted meeting at High Springs. Sunday night, however, we had an able sermon from Rev Knight. The protracted meeting which was to have been this week is therefore postponed.

T. C. Scott made a business (?) trip here Sunday, as did also James Knight of Forest Grove.

Miss Clem Pickett spent a few days last week at Worthington.

J. W. Miller visited at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Miller, Sunday.

Misses Vela Siford and Effie Byran, Messrs. Matthews, Hamilton, Studstill and Garland of Newberry came to attend service Sunday, but with the rest of us were disappointed.

Miss Irene Miller visited Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Andrews of Tioga last Sunday. After dinner she returned home, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Andrews and Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Andrews and little boy, afterwards attending service.

MONTICELLO DIDN'T COME.

At Last Moment Manager Received News Not to Expect Them.

At the very last moment, when anticipation and excitement was running high among the Gainesville fans over the promised games between Monticello and Oak Hall baseball teams, Manager Tison received information, with regrets, that it would be impossible at this time for the West Florida boys to come.

This information was indeed a bomb thrown among the fans, as they had anticipated some close and exciting work on the diamond. The Monticello team is one of the best amateur aggregations in the State, and the Oak Halls, realizing this, have been constantly practicing for the events.

It seems a difficult matter for the Oak Halls to secure a game at home. A few days ago they had arranged to play St. Augustine, when the Ancient City team failed to show up. Later, an effort was made to get a game with Jacksonville, but to no avail. It was thought sure the Monticello boys would come—but alas, the third disappointment stared them in the face.

The games between Monticello were to have been played Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons.

LETTER FROM MRS. GRAHAM.

Has been Enjoying Life in North Carolina—Mr. Graham Improving.

A letter has been received from Mrs. J. M. Graham, who, with Mr. Graham, has been spending the past few weeks delightfully at Hot Springs, N. C.

Mrs. Graham requests that The Sun be discontinued to her address at Hot Springs, as they expect to leave in a day or two for various points, but would be in no place long enough to furnish an address. "If it were possible I would have the paper follow us, for we will miss it so much," she says.

Friends will be glad to learn that both Mr. and Mrs. Graham are enjoying fine health, Mr. Graham's condition being exceptionally fine.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham expect to arrive home about October 1.

STEENBURG IN ILLINOIS.

Spending His Time at Decatur Trying to Buy Shetland Ponies.

The city editor of The Sun is in receipt of a souvenir postal, also a copy of The Decatur (Ill.) Herald, from A. O. Steenburg, who is spending a few weeks in that city.

Mr. Steenburg is evidently intending to establish a Shetland pony farm in this section, as he is advertising for any number of Shetland ponies, from one to fifty. He has been talking some time of establishing such an enterprise, which he believes would prove a paying investment, and it is to be hoped he will be successful in purchasing as many of the little animals as he desires.

John Pendrel, traveling passenger agent of the Clyde Line, and Cole Danley, Florida passenger agent of the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railway, arrived in the city yesterday from South Florida in the interest of their respective lines.

These young men are hustlers, and are among the most popular transportation men in the State.

Mr. Danley has just returned from his annual vacation, which he spent in New York and the East. Mr. Pendrel expects to leave about September 1, and will be absent from the State until the tide of travel again turns southward.

Sunday School Party.

Another of those delightful parties of the Rocky Point Sunday school was given at the home of Mrs. W. B. Crown Monday evening, which was well attended, and it is needless to add the young folks enjoyed a fine evening.

These parties have been given regularly at Rocky Point during the summer, which not only elevated the young people socially, but had a tendency to "break the monotony of things."

Wednesday's Fire.

KILLED BIG RATTLER.

Exciting Experience of Colored Rural Mail-Route Carrier.

Mail Carrier DeBose, of R. F. D. No. 3, between Gainesville and Hague, had quite an experience on his return to Gainesville today, and as expressed in the language of the Shakespearean play, Hamlet, caused his hair to "stand on end like quills on the fretful porcupine."

Near the bridge spanning Hogtown Creek about two miles from the city square, and right in the middle of the road, DeBose encountered a tremendous rattlesnake. His snakeship wanted to show fight, when DeBose got out of his buggy to "put him out of business." Imagine his anxiety when he couldn't find a stick within a hundred yards of the spot big enough to kill a grasshopper; but something had to be done, and DeBose began heaving heavy lumps of dry clay at the reptile. His aim was good, and in a few well-directed shots his snakeship lay dead at his feet.

DeBose did not ask anybody to take his word for this remarkable story, but tied the reptile to the rear of his buggy and brought it to the city, where it attracted a great deal of attention.

The snake measured five feet eight inches, and was possessed of eleven rattles and a button..

CLEANLY WOMAN.

Erroneously Thinks by Scouring Her Scalp That She Cures Dandruff.

Cleanly woman has an erroneous idea that by scouring the scalp which removes the dandruff scales, she is curing the dandruff. She now washes her head every day, and still has dandruff for it keeps accumulating. The only way in the world to cure dandruff is to put the dandruff germ [illegible] Nature herself destroys the cause and removes the effect. Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide. All over the U. S. and in foreign countries the remarkable popularity of Coca-Cola has drawn upon itself the attention and in some cases the criticism of Health and Pure Food Authorities. As a direct consequence Coca-Cola has been carefully analyzed in every section by the most eminent chemists, and never in a single instance has a derogatory report been returned. In fact the consensus of finding is that "THERE IS ABSOLUTELY NOTHING IN COCA-COLA ANY MORE HARMFUL THAN IS FOUND IN TEA OR COFFEE."

SITUATION IN ALABAMA.

The New York Commercial says the situation in Alabama continues to be ticklish and the railroad men and the State officials are each a little uncertain as to the others escaping arrest and imprisonment. While the railroaders listen to threats of arrest by the State officials, those officials tremblingly observe the handwriting on the wall executed by Thomas G. Jones, of the United States court. On Saturday, a railroad delegation waited on Judge Jones and asked as to their recourse in case of threatened arrest by the State. The judge, after denouncing any such possible proceedings as an entirely unnecessary indignity to the individual laborer, said: "In view of the threats that have been publicly made, it is eminently right, and will save trouble for me to say to you now, as I do say, that if you are arrested you will be immediately released on habeas corpus and the officer making the arrest in contempt of the orders of this court will be severely punished so that he will remember it for a long time." This is in line with Judge Jones' charge to the Federal grand jury last Wednesday when he read to that body the United States statute providing severe punishment not only for every person interfering with the processes of a Federal court but for any person who "corruptly or by threats or force endeavors to influence, intimidate, or impede any witness or officer in any court of the United States in the discharge of his duties, or corruptly or by force or threats obstructs or impedes or endeavors to obstruct or impede the due administration of justice." In his charge the court plainly stated that the jury would be detained in session for some time in view of possible overt acts threatened by the pretended friends of Alabama "home rule."

TARIFF AND PATENT MONOPOLY.

There never was a day in the history of cotton production in this country when one per cent of the enhancement of the price of cotton came from the tariff. Yet the tariff has increased the price of everything the planter or the laborer in his cotton field had to buy for plows, scrapers, shovels, axes, hoes, barbed wire, gearing gins, cotton mill machinery, clothing, sugar, salt—in fact every manufactured product. The same is true of other—all other—producers, except manufacturers. Some manufacturers have double monopolies. They have patent rights in addition to tariff protection. One or the other ought to be denied them. No monopoly should be allowed to rob people at its own will. The tariff on products made by a patent machinery or process should be abolished. If this were done the steel trust "protection" would no longer be worth a billion dollars, but only what the constitution secures to it as the value of its patents.

It would be a good idea for trial judges to clear the court room of all boys under eighteen years of age during the session of court. These youngsters manifest entirely too much curiosity concerning criminal cases, and are too free in their criticism of the action of the courts.

There has recently been entirely too much rowdyism in that section of the city known as Wall Street, especially late Saturday night or early Sunday morning. The working of a few of the parties engaged therein on the public streets would be a salutary lesson.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Only one thing seems absolutely certain about the strike of the telegraph operators and that is that the public is getting the worst of it. The telegraph is peculiarly a public service corporation, and a strike of the hurry-up lines is much the same thing to the business world as though there should be a general tie-up of the postal service. The big telegraph companies will not suffer at all by the strike. It will merely be a question with them of paying a few dollars less in dividends, and the officials will not eat a meal less or smoke a cigar the poorer. The operators and their families may suffer a little, considerably perhaps, if they lose. But the business world will suffer a great deal and the whole trade of the country will be hurt. Whether the demands of the striking operators are just or not, it is hard to say. The issue has not been clearly defined by either side. Both have indulged in the generalities of a man who is not quite sure of his case. But both the operators and the companies may be sure of one thing, and that is that they are driving the long-suffering public nearer to Government ownership by their family row. Of course there is no immediate prospect of such a solution of the difficulty, but every dispute between labor and capital in which the public is hurt drives that public nearer to experimenting a remedy that may or may not be worse than the disease.

The immunity bath is a curious development in modern legal practice, and the Department of Justice is now carefully considering the case of the Chicago & Alton officials whose testimony made possible the prosecution resulting in the now famous $29,000,000 fine against the Standard Oil Company. It is true that the officials of the road were promised immunity from prosecution on condition of furnishing testimony against the Standard. But it now appears that the Alton was concerned in some railroad gobbling on its own account before the rebate complications with the Standard arose. Now comes the question whether the officials can, or more properly speaking, should be prosecuted for their part in this prior performance. It is just possible that the department will agree to let bygones be bygones. But the Attorney-General is studying over the matter carefully, and in spite of the immunity granted it on one count, the road may be called to answer on another.

The attempt to scare the commuters in some of the States that have reduced passenger rates into standing by the railroads for the old rates, is a dismal failure. If the low commutation rates did not pay the railroads they would have abolished or raised the price of commutation tickets long ago. If the railroads are wise they will not stir up more antagonism than they now have to contend with.

"When Chicago has a beautiful smokeless day," says The Record-Herald of that city, "it is merely a foretaste of what we shall have regularly in the way of atmosphere before long." After that, we suppose, Pittsburgers will be taking home chunks of it for souvenirs.

The King of Siam is reported to have purchased a $75,000 thimble for one of his wives while visiting London recently. As he has something like 5,000 wives at home it is evident that his total expenditure for knicknacks is going to "be real interesting."

The Saint-Gaudens design for new gold coins has been rejected because it is impossible to pile the coins neatly. As so many people, you know, are piling theirs nowadays.

SERMONETTES

BY J. MARVIN NICHOLS.

Try—but don't try the wrong thing.

A drone in a hive is sure to get stung.

The world is waiting for the man who knows.

He who sees only the seamy side of life is already dead.

Yesterday is dead—there may never be any tomorrow for you.

A merchant has no more right to bulldoze than he has to doze.

Misdirected ambition—inevitable failure; that's the tragedy of life.

As the exactions of conscience the possibilities of happiness decrease.

A rapturous kiss, the wedding bells, a ———, no more women's clubs.

Ambition to reach a given goal carries with it the capacity to attain that end.

Set your mark so high that if you please yourself others must be pleased.

Excitement, worry and hurry—the deadly foes to longevity. These are the murder-mills.

The intellectual development of a nation is to be estimated by the value it puts on human life.

Most men are mongamists because each woman firmly believes in having one husband. At least, theoretically.

Success lies as much in discovering things one cannot do as it does in finding those things possible in their attainment.

"Honesty is the best policy"—I don't believe that, always. When honesty gets to be a policy it ceases to be any longer a principle. See?

Some folks are with their religion just like a kid with a big fire cracker. When it begins to sizzle they don't know what to do with it.

When Socrates said he didn't believe it possible for a good man to be injured by a worse he couldn't see this far down the ages.

Does reading make the man? If so, we'll read these long-drawn-out murder trials until we unconsciously make heroes out of thugs and bums.

Just as long as two blades of grass—one taller than the other—spring from the same seed, that long will there be men who tower above their fellows.

One generation must start where the other stops. Thus are we to be forever approaching that far-off, divine event toward which the whole creation moves.

Some men have such a ravenous craving for publicity that they would commit suicide readily if they were dead sure they would get to read the press notices that appear in box-car headlines.

I have noted some very strange things in the ebb and flow of the nation's great financial heart. Adversity causes men to combine their interests; prosperity somehow leads men to individualism.

Clifor Greve spoke truly when he said that cowardice is the millstone around most men's necks. The majority of the people are laboring at their present tasks because they are afraid to try to do anything else.

Children in Pain

Never cry as do children who are suffering from hunger. Such is the cause of all babies who cry and are treated for sickness, when they really are suffering from hunger. This is caused from their food not being assimilated but devoured by worms. A few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge will cause them to cease crying and begin to thrive at once. Give it a trial. Gainesville, Florida.

That our American forests abound in plants which possess the most valuable medicinal virtues is abundantly attested by scores of the most eminent medical writers and teachers. Even the untutored Indians had discovered the usefulness of many native plants before the advent of the white race. This information, imparted freely to the whites, led the latter to continue investigations until to-day we have a rich assortment of most valuable American medicinal roots.

Dr. Pierce believes that our American forests abound in most valuable medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases, if we could properly investigate them; and in confirmation of this conviction, he points with pride to the almost marvelous cures effected by his "Golden Medical Discovery," which has proven itself to be the most efficient stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart tonic and regulator, and blood cleanser known to medical science. Dyspepsia, or indigestion, torpid liver, functional and even valvular and other affections of the heart yield to its curative action. The reason why it cures these and many other affections, is clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., to all sending request for the same.

Not less marvelous, in the unparalleled cures it is constantly making of woman's many peculiar affections, weaknesses and distressing derangements, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as is amply attested by thousands of unsolicited testimonials contributed by grateful patients who have been cured by it of catarrhal pelvic drains, painful periods, irregularities, prolapsus and other displacements, caused by weakness, ulceration of uterus and kindred affections, often after many other advertised medicines and physicians had failed.

Both the above mentioned medicines are wholly made up from the glyceric extracts of native, medicinal roots. The processes employed in their manufacture were original with Dr. Pierce, and they are carried on by skilled chemists and pharmacists with the aid of apparatus and appliances specially designed and built for this purpose. Both medicines are entirely free from alcohol and all other harmful, habit-forming drugs. A full list of their ingredients is printed on each bottle-wrapper.

Fatal Accident to Olsen.

Brunswick, Ga., Aug. 28.—The funeral of Olaf Olsen took place Monday from his late residence on George street. Few men were so widely known as Mr. Olsen, whose death by drowning Sunday morning caused much regret. He fell into the water and being in a dazed condition by the fall, was drowned.

Fatal Shoting Affray.

Atlanta, Aug. 26—Tom Tinner, a negro boy 15 years of age, shot and almost instantly killed Joe Bailey, aged 20 years, Friday afternoon. Bailey, it is alleged, Thursday seriously cut the sister of Tinner. Tinner and Bailey met Friday at the corner of Ivy and Edgewood avenue. Tinner says that Bailey drew a pistol as he approached, saying: "I am going to kill the whole family." Tinner drew his gun, shooting twice, both shots taking effect.

S.S.S. PURIFIES THE BLOOD

There is no other part of our physical system upon which so much depends as upon the blood. The muscles, nerves, bones, sinews, skin, and other portions of the body are sustained, developed and enabled to perform their different duties, because they are supplied with nourishment and healthful properties through the circulation. In various ways the blood becomes contaminated and polluted. A sluggish, inactive condition of the system, and torpid state of the avenues of bodily waste, will leave the refuse and waste matter of the body to sour and form uric and other acids, which are absorbed into the blood and Rheumatism, or some itching, disfiguring skin disease is the result. Muddy, sallow complexions, eruptions, splotches, pimples, etc., all show that some humor has taken root in the circulation and rendered it sour and unfit for nourishing the body. There is scarcely any disease which cannot be traced to the blood. Often the disease-tainted blood of parents is handed down to children and their lives are a continual battle against disease in some form, usually of a scrofulous nature. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Skin Diseases, Sores and Ulcers, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., are all deep-seated blood troubles, and until this vital fluid is purified they cannot be cured. For all blood diseases S. S. S. is the best remedy ever put upon the market. This great medicine is made of roots, herbs and barks of recognized blood-purifying and building-up properties. It goes down into the circulation and removes all poisons, impurities and humors, supplies the blood with the healthful properties it needs and completely cures blood diseases of every kind. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Skin Diseases, Sores and Ulcers, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., because it purifies the blood. Book on the blood and medical advice free.

EYES, EARS AND NOSE

Curious Facts About These Organs of the Human Head.

PECULIARITIES OF THE EYE.

The Ball Is Covered With a Tough and Elastic Coat, and the Pupil Is a Deep Hole Filled by a Transparent Lens. The Nerves of the Nose.

Did it ever occur to you to inquire why the eyeball of the eye is white? The reason is rather curious. The blood vessels which supply its surface are so fine that they do not admit the red corpuscles of the blood.

The eyeball is covered with a coat known as the "Tunica sclerotica," which is amazingly tough and elastic and covers the entire ball with the exception of the part behind where the optic nerve enters and of the cornea in front. The pupil of the eye is a deep hole filled by a transparent lens and fitted with a most exquisite arrangement of muscles which widens it when the light is dim and narrows it in a strong glare.

Do you know that you have a "blind spot" in each eye? That is, a small portion of the retina is incapable of exciting the sensation of vision when it receives the image of an object. This blind spot corresponds with the artery lying in the center of the optic nerve. By a wonderful provision of nature the blind spots do not correspond when the eyes are directed toward the same object, so they cause no inconvenience, and few beyond doctors and opticians are even aware of their existence.

Practically all persons are right or left eyed, although they may not know it. One eye is nearly always a little stronger than the other and consequently is used more. Of course the difference in many cases is so great that it has to be artificially corrected. In many cases, too, the pupils of the two eyes vary quite considerably in size.

Shortsightedness, it has been proved, is more common among people with light colored eyes than those with dark. At the same time, among gray eyed persons are found those with the most powerful sense of vision of any.

Muscular fatigue of the eye can be measured by the number of involuntary eyelid movements, or blinks, made per minute. Read by candlelight or other insufficient illumination and you will find yourself blinking seven times a minute. In ordinary gaslight you blink about three times a minute, but if you work in softened daylight or by powerful yet shaded electric light your eye tires so slightly that you do not blink more than once in thirty or thirty-five seconds.

The eyelashes give most useful aid in shading the eyes. The average person has 100 or 150 hairs on the upper lid and 80 or 100 on the lower, or, say, 450 to 500 lashes in all.

The eyelashes are not permanent. They are constantly falling out and growing again and are entirely renewed at least three times a year. Along their edges the eyelids are provided with a little oily secretion, just sufficient to keep the tears, which wash and keep clean the eyes, from overflowing.

Eyebrows which grow thick and dark are a very sure sign of a good constitution and physical endurance. If they are lighter than the hair, they indicate lack of vitality.

The nose, so far as appearance goes, is the most important feature of the face, and few people are aware of how much its eventual shape depends on character and profession. At ten a boy's nose may be a "pug" pure and simple, at fifteen it may be almost Greek, and at twenty-five it may have developed a powerful bridge and become practically Roman. Almost every great general who ever lived, from Alexander the Great to Wellington and General Grant, had a Roman nose.

It is to the delicate nerves of smell in the nose that we owe our appreciation of a well cooked dinner and fine wine. The palate has comparatively little to do with it.

We have no special reason to be proud of our ears. The human ear is infinitely inferior to the movable, funnel shaped ear trumpet possessed by the horse, by cattle or even by the rabbit or hare. Both men and apes have lost the power of moving their external ears, and there are many sounds, such as the squeak of a bat, which are absolutely beyond the compass of the human auditory apparatus. There is one peculiar point about the ears. Of all our features, they are those most likely to be exactly similar in size and shape.

We have already mentioned that the two eyes of one individual are very seldom alike. The same may be said of the face as a whole. Only 2 per cent of the whole human race are possessed of absolutely symmetrical faces. In seventy-four persons out of a hundred the left side of the face is larger than the right; in twenty-four the right is the larger; in two the two sides are similar. Next time you visit the photographer, remember this fact. One side of your profile will look better than the other.—Pearson's Weekly.

Plane Sailing.

All plain sailing. This term is so spelled even in nautical works of some age, but plane sailing is the correct form. Before Mercator invented the sea chart which goes by his name all charts were on a plane projection. In using these the ship's course was treated as an angle and the distance, difference of latitude and departure as the sides of a right angled triangle. There were very large errors in plane charts, yet all the world was charted on them and all the great voyages of discovery made before Mercator's projection came into use. Plane sailing was the simplest of all sailings, and thus came the present meaning of the term.

Pretty Useful Shoes.

It would be difficult to realize what the Frieslander would do without his klompen, or wooden shoes, for they have a hundred uses. With them he bails out his boat, corrects his children and scoops up a drink of water wherever he may be. He places in them his worms for fishing, uses them as missiles in a free fight, digs with them, measures dry goods with them, and a hundred other things. The klompen are cheap; they cost about fifteen pence a pair, man's size, and Dutchmen's feet are not Cinderella-like by any means.—Wide World Magazine.

His Query.

Wilfred was taken to the lake, which was entirely frozen over, and the smooth ice glittered in the sunlight. It was the first time the little fellow had seen this body of water covered with ice, and, after viewing it for a few minutes, he turned to his mother and asked innocently:

"Say, mamma, who put the lid on the lake?"—Circle.

Her Late Husband.

Hubby (returning from his club at 3 a. m. and finding his wife, dressed in widow's weeds, awaiting him)—What on earth are you in mourning for?

"My late husband," came the tearful reply.

Didn't Fire Him.

A kind old gentleman, seeing a small boy who was carrying a lot of newspapers under his arm, said, "Don't all those papers make you tired, my boy?"

"Naw, I don't read 'em," replied the lad.—Canadian Courier.

Mr. Phifer, who has been employed by Phifer Bros., New York Racket, in this city for some time, has decided to branch out on "his own hook," and has selected Alachua as his point. He expects at an early date to establish an up-to-date general mercantile establishment in that town, and friends predict for him splendid success from the beginning.

HER BIRTHDAY GIFT

Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, Now of Age, to Receive $12,000,000.

SHE IS NOW IN EUROPE

But Will Sail for America Soon To Be Present at the Redistribution of the Great Vanderbilt Fortune that Will Occur at an Early Date.

New York, Aug. 23.—Miss Gladys Vanderbilt's twenty-first birthday occurred when, according to the will of her father, the late Cornelius Vanderbilt, she came into absolute possession of the estate left in trust for her, which amounts to $12,500,000. She is the youngest of the direct heirs to the vast fortune amassed by the third head of the house of Vanderbilt. She and her mother have been cruising in the Mediterranean, taking the waters in the south of France and hunting through the curio shops of Paris for rare old bronzes, of which they have secured quite a number, for the spacious halls of The Breakers, their Newport home.

Mrs. Vanderbilt has cabled to have The Breakers opened. She and Gladys Vanderbilt are coming over for the late season and incidentally for business reasons, the redistribution of the Vanderbilt millions which according to that document of fatherly love and wrath, the Vanderbilt will, was to be finally adjusted when Gladys came of legal age.

Clerks and accountants have been busy for many months at the office of the Vanderbilt estate at Forty-second street and Madison avenue making preparations for this settlement of the vast fortune.

PANIC ENSUED.

Angry Lion Attacked His Trainer and Terribly Lacerated Him.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 28.—Several women and children were injured during a panic at a local pleasure resort as the result of a lion making an attack upon Captain J. F. Briggs, a tamer and performer. The beast laid bare the tamer's left arm by a blow of its paw and lacerated the man's thigh with its teeth. The lion was subdued by attendants.

A panic seized the spectators and many women fainted.

In the rush to escape, women and children were trampled upon. Aside from Captain Briggs, no one was seriously hurt.

The boy's leg was crushed in the cogs, and while endeavoring to save himself, his left arm was drawn into the machinery, too. Both were amputated.

On Evangelistic Work.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 28.—The annual meeting of the Presbyterian general assembly committee on evangelistic work began here Tuesday and will continue over Wednesday. The committee will contribute largely to the south and southwest with a view to increasing the work in those sections.

Tornado Tossed Baby to Death.

Wheeling, W. Va., Aug. 28.—A tornado stuck the town of Woodsfield and New Castle, O., Monday, wrecking a number of buildings and doing other damage. The home of Samuel Bartemus, near Woodsfield, was entirely destroyed and a two-year-old child killed. The child was torn from its mother's arms and carried nearly a quarter of a mile.

CONVICTS ESCAPE.

Knock Guard Senseless and Make a Dash for Liberty.

Moultrie, Ga., Aug. 28.—At a county convict camp temporarily set up seven miles north of Moultrie, a guard was assaulted Monday night, and propably fatally wounded, while five of the prisoners made their escape into the adjacent country. There were eleven convicts in the squad under one white man, S. W. Smith, who was guard and superintendent of road work.

The convicts were kept in portable cells on cars and on Sunday were given more than customary liberty. On Monday night, before the car had been locked, the guard went in to pick up some articles that lay in the corner of the car when one of the prisoners struck him across the back of the head with a heavy iron ladle used in soldering. A severe gash resulted from the blow, and the man fell unconscious.

Seven of the convicts made their escape, but after a time five of them came back to the camp. Four refused to leave the camp and sent word to Moultrie of the affair. The county physician went at once to attend Guard Smith and found him barely alive. He gave it as his opinion that he could not survive from the wound. An effort was made to get track dogs from Thomasville, but it was unsuccessful. A number of deputies have been sent out after the escaped men, who had about 12 hours the start of them.

A. Rosenstwist, the consul from Sweden in this city, and prominent business men of the city, were present.

Following the breakfast, Prince Wilhelm was taken on an automobile tour of Boston and Cambridge, during which he inspected the buildings of Harvard university and historical points of interest in both cities. At the conclusion of the tour he was driven to the Somerset club, where a private dinner in his honor was given by Hon. Charles R. Kidder at which Governor Guild was present.

The order was signed by a judge of the circuit court of Georgia and by the attorney general of the United States. Benjamin Gaynor will remain in the Macon jail. TROUBLE IN IRELAND

Farrell, M.P., and Forty Irish Nationalists Arrested.

BE TRIED BY SPECIAL COURT

It Is Claimed the Parliament Member and Others Took Part In "An Unlawful Assembly Likely to Cause a Riot."

Longford, Ireland, Aug. 28.—Jas P. Farrell, Irish Nationalist, member of parliament for North Longford, and forty others were arrested early Tuesday morning and are now being tried by a special court, convened for the purpose, on the charge of taking part in "an unlawful assembly likely to cause a riot."

Mr. Farrell had been holding meetings throughout his constituency, at which exciting scenes occurred between Nationalists and members of the Sinn Fein society.

In addition, many cattle have been driven from the grazing lands in the district, which the prosecution alleges was encouraged by Mr. Farrell and other speakers. Large forces of police are being despatched here, as trouble is being anticipated.

Mr. Farrell is the editor and proprietor of the Longford Leader, a nationalist newspaper circulting in the counties of Longford and Leitrim and is the author of a "History of the County of Longford."

At the general election of 1900, Mr. Farrell was returned unopposed from North Longford, succeeding Justin McCarthy, who resigned.

MARTYR TO SCIENCE.

Dr. Powell's Fatal Experiments with Carbolic Acid.

New York, Aug. 28.—Dr. Seneca D. Powell, whose name will go down in the history of medicine as a martyr to science, lies dead at his home in Greenwich, Conn., as the result of constant drinking of carbolic acid for three years to prove that pure alcohol is an antidote for the poison.

Few chapters in the history of how men have battled against disease equal the one furnished by Dr. Powell. He graduated as an M. D. in 1869, from the Medical School of New York university, and at once plunged into exhaustive experiments with poisons.

One after another he pondered methods of neutralizing the effects of deadly fluids and powders, and year after year he added to the sum total of his colleagues' knowledge of the dread liquids.

Augustus Powell, Dr. Powell's father, was a rich planter, living in Alabama, where the doctor was born. The father was quartermaster in the confederate army in which Dr. Powell also served.

MARRIAGE IN MAYFAIR.

English Officer in Indian Army Weds American Girl.

London, Aug. 28.—There was a large gathering of British military men and Americans at Christ church, Mayfair, Tuesday afternoon, for the marriage of Miss Mary Mactier Latrobe, daughter of the late R. Stewart Latrobe, of Baltimore, to Colonel Arthur P. D. Harrison, of the fifth Light Infantry, Indian army.

After the ceremony there was a reception which was attended by intimate friends.

Colonel and Mrs. Harris will proceed in October to India where the colonel will resume command of his regiment.

She Threw Carbolic Acid.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 28.—Jay Collogly, attendant at the Bailey sanitarium, died Monday in great agony from the effects of carbolic acid thrown in his face during the night by an insane patient named Irene Nickel. The woman has been kept handcuffed because of her frenzies, but she secured her freedom in some way and took the acid from the medicine chest. The woman has an insane delusion that the attendant has been trying to kill her.

MRS. CADE GRANTED BAIL.

Eufaula, Ala., Aug. 28.—Mrs. Levi Cade, who, it is charged, murdered her husband near the city last week by shooting him in the head while he was lying on the bed, was arrested and brought before Precinct Judge W. J. Clayton. She promptly waived a preliminary hearing and was granted bail in the sum of $300, which was made.

Mrs. Cade has given out a statement in which she said that on the evening of the killing her husband quarreled with her and greatly abused her, and finally beat her unmercifully with a stick. She was then ordered to leave the home, under a threat that he would kill her if she remained longer than morning. She agreed to leave until she was denied her children, and after some quarreling her husband reclined on the bed. After he became quiet she seized his gun and placing it within two feet of his head, fired the fatal shot. She then fled to a nearby negro house and made known the story.

She further stated that her husband had been whipping her at intervals all during their married life and that she had rather hang than endure it any longer. Mrs. Cade's statement as to the whipping is corroborated by neighbors and evidences of marks on her person.

RIOT IN DALLAS.

Laundryman Attacked and Receives Rough Treatment.

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 28.—[illegible]ing by a mob of between 50 and 75 men, occurred in the heart of this city at about 10:30 o'clock Monday night.

The crowd surrounded a man carrying a bundle of laundry and the leader, a burly man, accused the victim of being a "scab." This was indignantly denied, the man declaring he was in the employ of a laundry.

Many of the crowd seemed to believe this, and there were cries of "let him go; he's all right," etc., but the leader refused to believe this, and falling upon the victim, bore him, unresisting, to the ground.

Regaining his feet, the man eluded the grasp of his assailant and ran, followed by the leader with the mob at some distance.

The object of the attack was knocked down four times in the first block, each time, according to eye-witnesses, offering no resistance, but, terrorized and crying for help at every step.

No arrests were made, and the police did not arrive until some time later. The laundryman escaped.

Pinned Under Auto Wreck.

New York, Aug. 28.—A giant touring car, driven by Carl Hanna, son of Dan Hanna, and loaded with eight of his friends, crashed into a butcher cart while dashing from Seabright to Asbury Park Monday. Every occupant of the automobile was badly injured; five, including Mr. Hanna, being pinned beneath the over-turned wreck of the machine for half an hour. The accident came while the party was on the way home after a grand ball given by young Hanna and his stepfather, Eli K. Stalle, at Pannacl's hotel, Seabright, N. J., to half a hundred wealthy friends who are living for the summer in that vicinity.

Japanese City Fire Swept.

Hakodate, Japan, Aug. 28.—Fire broke out Monday morning in the flimsy native structures of this seaport, and before it could be controlled, nearly 70 per cent of the city was in ashes. The flames spread with such rapidity that all the efforts of the firemen were in vain. With the exception of the American, all the consulates were burned. Great disorder prevails.

Clark's Fatal Mistake.

Senoia, Ga., Aug. 28.—Henry Clark, aged 89 years, was buried at Rocky Mount cemetery Sunday afternoon, services being conducted by Rev. W. A. Davis. Friday morning he was coughing badly and went to the medicine chest for a cough remedy, but through mistake took a dose of Rathbone, which caused his death in less than five hours.

MATINEE WAS FEATURE OF COURT

Interesting Play in Which There Were Many Characters.

LARGEST COURT FOR WEEKS

Bonds of $10 Each Were Forfeited—Two Cases on Charge of Selling Liquor—Davies, the Negro and the Knife—Hallo and Knucks.

Tuesday's Daily Sun.

There was a lively matinee on the judicial stage of human events Monday when there was billed an extraordinary number of some of our well known people to play the various parts, the title of the production being, "I Don't Know How It Happened, But It Is So."

The personnel of this aggregation of participants attracted a large crowd, ranging apparently in age from 10 to 100, many of the younger element of whom would have been in more appropriate position at their mother's knee—but no blame can be placed upon the "kid" who is living "before" age, if his parents will allow him.

The curtain rose promptly at 9 o'clock and the following was the cast of characters:

Some Man, Who Would Go After Whisky Who Offended Him with a Knife (according to the testimony of the prosecuting witness).....A. Davies.
(Bond forfeited $10 and costs.)

Absent Town, Who Wanted to Have a Big Time .....M. Smith.
(Bond forfeited $10 bond.)

Some Other Absent Town, Bent on Pleasure.....W. Rhinehart.
(Bond forfeited same.)

Some Fellow With No Knuckles....Manchie Hallo.
(Bond forfeited his bond, $10.)

Some Negro .....John Gaines.
(Bond forfeited and costs, which he paid.)

Some Fellow, Who Carried Some Kind of Liquor in a Box, Which It Wasn't His.....
.....Hosiah Myers.
(Bond forfeited, but liquor confiscated.)

Some Liquor Seller .....B. Beville.
(Bond forfeited until Tuesday morning.)

The principals of the event are white, the remainder of Gaines, Myers and Hallo are of the Ethiopian persuasion.

Hosiah Myers conducts an up-to-date meat market. He is a kind-hearted gentleman, always willing to do those whom he deems worthy a favor, but in the matter of extending credit, Allen Hill, a colored fellow-shaver, it appears, was indebted to Mr. Davies for several shaves—in fact, until patience ceased to be a virtue. He went into Hill's shop Saturday night to collect the money, when he was greeted by the same old story—dead broke. It appeared that Mr. Davies, who went out of his place in a hurry, carried with him a butcher knife, which is very essential in the matter of cleanliness. Hill became alarmed at the appearance of the knife, and thought Davies was after him. He consequently caused his arrest. The defendant was fined $2.50 and costs.

M. Smith and W. Rhinehart, two young fellows full of more fun than malice to offend anyone, went out just for a little of the former. They made too much noise to suit the officer, who required them to give a bond of $10 each for their appearance at the session Monday morning, but they preferred to forfeit the bond rather than show up.

Manchie Hallo, a one-armed colored youth scarcely more than eighteen, became enraged at his father, Allison Hallo, for some reason, and it is said, attempted to assault him with a pair of knucks. He was not present at the court, and forfeited his bond of $10.

John Gaines, colored, persisted in carrying a pistol, not where men usually tote guns, but in his breast, next to his heart. He was arrested by Marshal Arnow, and was assessed a fine of $25 and costs, or three months. Paid.

Hosiah Myers was "run down" by Marshal Arnow, who suspected something crooked, and when arrested the officer found in his possession a box containing sixteen pints of the essence of joy. Hosiah was relieved of his booze, after he declared that it belonged to another party, and told that when he produced the party to whom it belonged it would be returned. He has not yet produced the alleged owner, hence Marshal Arnow is "sixteen pints to the good."

B. Beville was arrested Saturday night at the instigation of two white men, names unknown, who stated to Officer Kite that he had sold them liquor. Officer Kite made a thorough search of the premises occupied by Mr. Beville, but was unable to find a drop of intoxicating beverage. However, he was required to give bond for his appearance Monday morning, when the case was continued until Tuesday.

Attorney B. A. Thrasher is representing the defendant.

Buy Hair at Auction?

At any rate, you seem to be getting rid of it on auction-sale principles: "going, going, g-o-n-e!" Stop the auction with Ayer's Hair Vigor. It certainly checks falling hair; no mistake about this. It acts as a regular medicine; makes the scalp healthy. Then you must have healthy hair, for it's nature's way.

A Pleasant Occasion.

One of the most pleasant occasions of the season was the reception tendered Dr. and Mrs. P. W. Corr and daughter, Miss Alys May, by Mr. and Mrs. Milo Bennett, at their home on West Masonic street, Friday evening.

While there was nothing particularly "swell" about this reception, it was nevertheless enjoyed, and many friends of those in whose honor it was given were there.

Dr. Corr and his estimable family expect to leave in a short time for Dade City, where Dr. Corr has been appointed principal of the Dade City High School, one of the best institutions in the State. He is an educator of high note, and will fill the position with efficiency and credit.

Dr. Corr went yesterday to Jasper to pack and ship his library, but returned in the evening, and today will fill the pulpit at the First Baptist church. He is not only an educator, but a preacher who always commands attention, and will no doubt attract good congregations at both services.

Dr. Corr will preach both morning and evening at the First Baptist church.

SENSATIONAL JUSTICE COURT

Young White Man Took Horse and Buggy, He Alleged, for Fun, But Justice Henderson Could See Nothing Funny and Taxed Him With a Fine.

Newberry, the hustling metropolis of the West End, has furnished her share of sensations during the past two or three days, the result of which has cost one man his life, another an arm, and the third a fine of twenty-five dollars and costs, the latter being charged with taking possession of a horse and buggy belonging to J. L. Medlin, the naval stores operator of Meredith.

On Sunday it is reported a south bound passenger train on the Atlantic Coast Line ran over a negro man, mangling him horribly, and from which he died in a few hours.

On the same day a colored boy about fifteen years of age, in an attempt to board a moving train, lost his foothold and fell between the cars. One of the trucks passed over an arm, so badly lacerating the same that amputation was necessary to save the lad's life. The operation was performed by Drs. Howell and Getzen.

A negro woods rider employed by J. L. Medlin, the naval stores operator of Meredith, drove to Newberry and hitched his horse to a rack in the street. When he returned he was astounded to find the horse and buggy conspicuous for their absence. After wandering aimlessly about the vicinity of Newberry for several hours he finally found the horse and vehicle. In the meantime the officers had been notified, and later a young white man by the name of Hathcox was arraigned in Justice Henderson's court, where it is alleged he stated that he did not intend to steal the horse and buggy, but took it "just for fun," intending to return it. He did not explain why he failed to come back with the team, hence was fined $25 and costs for disorderly conduct.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Death of Deserving Woman.

Editor Sun: Please allow me to say through your paper that the entire community was saddened on Thursday, August 22nd, on account of the death of Mrs. Roena Wilson. She leaves four small children, two brothers, one sister, and a host of relatives and friends to mourn their loss. She died in full triumph of faith. She had lived a consistent member of the Methodist Church for more than ten years.

But what makes the sadness is that her dear children are left absolute orphans. We are encouraged through the Great Friend of Orphans to do whatever we can for the comfort and rearing of her dear little ones.

Sincerely her brother,
S. G. GAINEY.

GREAT INTEREST IN COMING CONVENTION

Of The Florida Postmasters of the Fourth Class.

A BIG TIME IS ANTICIPATED

State President Weeks Issues a Circular Calling Convention, and Urging a Full Attendance—Meeting to Convene Here September 24.

There is being manifested a considerable interest in the approaching convention of the Florida Postmasters of the Fourth-class, of which Postmaster Geo. M. Weeks of Glen St. Mary is the State president.

Postmaster L. C. Lynch, Assistant Postmaster J. P. H. Bell, and in fact the entire force of the local postoffice, are anticipating this meeting with a great deal of pleasure, as the coming together of such a large aggregation of integrity, as will be found in these delegates, is bound to prove of much benefit to all concerned, for it is here that new ideas will be exchanged, working great good and advantage to the postmasters who attend.

This meeting, as has already been stated in a previous issue of The Sun, will be called on Tuesday, September 24, and will likely continue for three days. The sessions will be held in the Elks' lodge room, Postmaster Lynch having made arrangements with the order to convene there.

State President Weeks has issued a most interesting circular to the postmasters of the fourth-class, urging every one of them to be present, and there will be no doubt be a ready response to this request.

In speaking of entertaining the delegates in its issue of Saturday, The Sun made a remark which is likely to create a misunderstanding among our people. It was suggested that those who were willing to entertain delegates confer with Postmaster Lynch. Mr. Lynch desires to correct the impression that the delegates expect to be entertained in the homes of our citizens, but that no more than right and proper that they, as a body, be extended the hospitality of the residents, collectively and individually. It has been suggested that they be given a drive about the city, visiting the University and other places of interest, and that other like courtesies be extended the visitors, which will no doubt be done, as Gainesville people enjoy a reputation for hospitality throughout the entire State.

DR. CORR TO DADE CITY.

Will Assume Principalship of Dade City High School.

Dr. P. W. Corr, during the term of the State Normal recently closed a member of the faculty of that school, left Tuesday for Dade City, where he has accepted the principalship of the Dade City high school.

It may be interesting to state that Dr. Corr, who is one of the most widely known educators in the State, and one of the oldest in time of service, was the first man who was ever principal of the Gainesville public school for two years in succession, and he could have held the position indefinitely, but was compelled to relinquish same on account of failing health.

After regaining his health this distinguished educator resumed his profession as an instructor, since which time he has had much experience in normal and other school work. He was highly complimented by State Superintendent W. M. Holloway on his work in physical geography at the Jasper Normal Institute, and was consequently assigned to that branch of study in the State Normal.

Former County Superintendent J. H. Girardeau, of Jefferson county, also paid Dr. Corr a high compliment when he stated that his work in mathematics was the finest he had seen since the death of his own father, who was in his day a teacher of State-wide reputation.

Dr. Corr's family will remain in Gainesville until arrangements can be made for them in their new home. Their numerous friends here will regret very much when the time arrives for their departure.

SPECIALIST PRESCRIBES CUTICURA

A Famous French Specialist on Diseases of the Skin Prescribes Cuticura as the Most Effective Remedy Known to Him, Charging as His Fee 100 Francs ($20).

ALSO PRESCRIBED IN HOSPITAL SAINT LOUIS

"Gentlemen: You may be pleased to learn that a patient suffering from an irritation of the skin, caused by motoring, on consulting a noted physician in Paris, for which a fee of one hundred francs (twenty dollars) was charged, was advised to use Cuticura, which advice, although received with astonishment, was followed and resulted in a perfect cure. (Signed) Lewis Gower, 1123 Broadway, New York, U. S. A., December 16, 1906."

French physicians, particularly those making a specialty of the treatment of skin diseases, have for many years regarded Cuticura as a specific and have prescribed it freely. It enjoys the rare distinction of being prescribed in the Hospital Saint Louis, Paris, one of the largest and most famous hospitals in the world devoted exclusively to the treatment of diseases of the skin.

Mother Of Ten

Always Kept Cuticura Ready for Children's Skin and Scalp Troubles.

"I wish to add my voice to the praise of Cuticura Remedies. I am the father of ten children, whose mother is dead. In our homes in England and America, she kept in my little medicine chest, always on hand and often used to use the Cuticura Remedies, and they brought the best of results in children's skin and scalp troubles. These children are all grown and scattered and I cannot recall any specific case of cure, but I do know that I have spent remarkably little in doctors' fees. (Signed) George W. Rugby, 62 N. Clark St., Chicago, Ill., Oct. 25, 1906."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humor of Infants, Children and Adults consists of Cuticura Soap (25c.) to Purify the Skin, Cuticura Ointment (50c.) to Heal the Skin, and Cuticura Resolvent (50c.) DAYTONA BEACH NOTES.

Items of Interest Regarding People We Know at That Resort.

Daytona Beach, August 24.—Daytona Beach still alive with Gainesville people.

Mr. and Livingston came down on the 19th and are pleasantly located at "Piney Castle," a very desirable cottage on the beach. After staying a few days with his family enjoying fishing and surf bathing, Mr. Livingston returned to Gainesville.

Oscar has came down on the 17th instant hoping that the change would benefit his health, and he surely seems much improved. He says if an appetite for plenty to eat is any indication he is on the right road to good health.

Mrs. J. Alsop and niece, Miss Connie Entrey, are expected today, and will be guests of the Surf Crest, with C. W. McDonald and family staying.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Weston made Daytona beach a flying visit on the 22nd. They took their many friends here by surprise, but that did not keep them from offering congratulations. They were here only one afternoon. The happy couple are visiting New Smyrna, but will visit Daytona Beach on returning to Gainesville.

This week has been very gay. The baby show came off on the 22nd. About babies were entered. Fourteen of these received prizes for the different attractions and cute ways babies are noted for. The little months-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson won the prize for being the fattest, and indeed he surely deserved it.

On the there was a fancy dress skating exhibition at the Casino, which caused much amusement and pleased the people.

New arrivals yesterday were Mr. and Baker and family from Gainesville.

Mandel and wife are here from Gainesville.

Among the Gainesville boys we see are Sam Albert Vidal, Holland Fay Driver, Wallace Parham. Now they can tell some great and experiences when they get home.

IN MEMORIAM.

Resolutions of Respect on the Life of the Rev. J .C. Ley.

Death has again sounded an alarm at our inner door, calling from labor to rest our beloved brother, P. M. J. C. Ley, who reached the ripe age of eighty-four years and eight months. Brother Ley was a Mason for over fifty years, having joined Micanopy Lodge, No. 29, in 1856. He was always ready to do his part when opportunity permitted. Duty lay heavily upon him, and his vows as a member of the Masonic brotherhood were kept intact; the order, therefore, has lost a faithful member in the deceased. As a minister of the gospel he was like the apostle Paul—in labors abundant, in perils oft, in sufferings without measure. The church, like our fraternity, has suffered by his removal, for not only was he a pioneer, but also a bulwark and a defense for all that made righteousness and peace. The cross of Christ was ever before him and its glory led him on to tell the old story of Jesus and His love for lost and ruined sinners.

The commonwealth has suffered by the removal of our fellow-citizen and the State at large is under lasting obligations to such lives as that of Rev. J. C. Ley, a man of culture and well read in the things pertaining to the advancement of the people.

His patriotism and love for law had always marked him as one of the first rank in helping others to a better condition of social life. Without pride or pomp he filled his place as a spiritual adviser for the period of sixty-three years; he was held in highest esteem by his brethren in the ministry; he has been honored by the Masonic fraternity, and his name will ever be revered and handed down to posterity as one worthy of emulation. The whole State will mourn with those of his family who are left, more especially the community in which he lived so long and labored for their good in every way. Our brother was twice married, first to Miss Julia Wade, in the year 1849. This union was of short duration, as his wife died within a year. Again, on July 4th, 1853, he was married to Miss Martha Smith Pottle, and for over fifty-four years they travelled together for better and for worse. When the way was dark and times were hard they encouraged each other. This companion survives him, with three sons, who all reside in Jacksonville. For them we pray the blessing of Israel's God, who doeth all things well.

Servant of God, well done!
Rest from thy loved employ,
The battle's fought, the victory's won,
Enter thy Master's joy.

At our Lodge of Sorrow it was unanimously resolved to thus express our esteem for our departed brother, also to extend our sympathy for the bereaved family. Resolved, also, that a copy of this be spread upon the records and placed in the archives of the lodge; also, that a copy be sent to the widow and family of the deceased, all of which is done by the will of the lodge and order of the Worshipful Master.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, D. C., August 25.—Democratic politicians in Washington are finding a good deal of quiet enjoyment in the difficulties which their friends, the Republicans, are experiencing with the tariff question. Secretary Taft has come out in the speech which is understood to be the platform on which he will stand for the nomination of his party, for tariff revision to take place after election, or "eighteen months hence," and it is known that President Roosevelt read and approved Mr. Taft's utterance before it was delivered. Moreover, Mr. Taft says that he is convinced that in order to win the Republican party must pledge itself in its next national platform to this program and the President is known to hold the same view. These views of the party leaders, however, cause unmitigated agony to those stanch old protectionists who have always been the bone and sinew of the party, and "Honest John Dalzell," who is sent to Congress year after year by the steel trust, and made a member of the most influential committee of the House, that on rules, by Speaker Cannon, to please the same corporations, is groaning so loudly that his wail can be heard all the way from Pittsburg to Washington. Speaker Cannon is also in severe distress because he well realizes that his long record as a "stand patter" naturally unfits him to succeed himself as speaker of a house elected on such a platform as the President and Secretary Taft propose. Were it not for the fact that the venerable "General" Grosvenor of Ohio had fallen by the wayside, so to speak—in other words failed of reelection—his wail of grief would already be piercing the ambient atmosphere all the way from San Francisco to the Atlantic coast.

To hear the good, old-fashioned Republicans, men of the stamp of Vice-President Fairbanks, Senator Aldrich, Senator Foraker, Senator Crane, Senator Knox, Governor Hughes and others talk among themselves about Theodore Roosevelt and the Republican party, one is reminded of that story once famous in popular fiction, of the scientist who so far perfected his science that he created a man, although he was unable to endow it with a soul. His creation dogged his footsteps all his life, proved a veritable nemesis, and when he finally, in desperation, took the life he had created, he committed suicide from remorse. So, say these Republican leaders, the Republican party created Roosevelt, but he has proved to be a man without a Republican soul, at least. His policies are Democratic, not Republican. He has not hesitated to borrow from Mr. Bryan, or from any other source, anything he regarded as good, and he has so far had the people with him as to compel his Republican brethren in Congress to support measures which were in the last degree repugnant to all that has hitherto stood for Republicanism. And now, to augment and refine the agony of the old-fashioned Republicans, Mr. Roosevelt seems bound to inflict the party with another man of his own stripe in William Howard Taft. Truly, in these days of progression, the way of the Republican is hard.

Democrats in the national capital are greatly interested in the obvious fact that the President and Secretary Taft have come to the conclusion that William J. Bryan will again be the Democratic standard bearer, and they assert that the attention which Mr. Taft paid to Mr. Bryan in his keynote speech demonstrates that they regard the "Peerless Leader" as truly a formidable opponent. Mr. Taft devoted a goodly portion of his speech at Columbus to an attempt to show that Rooseveltism was not Bryanism, although he was compelled to admit that many of his and Mr. Roosevelt's policies sounded singularly like the scheme originally propounded by the brilliant Nebraskan.

It is a bit of inside history, that while in Mr. Taft's speech as printed he declared that the scheme of license for all corporations doing an interstate business originated with Secretary Garfield when he was Commissioner of Corporations and afterwards was adopted by Mr. Bryan, Mr. Taft did not say that at Columbus. He so wrote when he prepared the advance copies of his speech, but at the eleventh hour he found that Mr. Garfield did not originate the scheme and he notified the papers to change the text of his speech, but in most instances it was too late, as it was already in type.

SITUATION IN ALABAMA.

The New York Commercial says the situation in Alabama continues to be ticklish and the railroad men and the State officials are each a little uncertain as to the others escaping arrest and imprisonment. While the railroaders listen to threats of arrest by the State officials, those officials tremblingly observe the handwriting on the wall executed by Thomas G. Jones, of the United States court. On Saturday, a railroad delegation waited on Judge Jones and asked as to their recourse in case of threatened arrest by the State. The judge, after denouncing any such possible proceedings as an entirely unnecessary indignity to the individual laborer, said: "In view of the threats that have been publicly made, it is eminently right, and may save trouble for me to say to you now, as I do say, that if you are arrested you will be immediately released on habeas corpus and the officer making the arrest in contempt of the orders of this court will be severely punished so that he will remember it for a long time." This is in line with Judge Jones' charge to the Federal grand jury last Wednesday when he read to that body the United States statute providing severe punishment not only for every person interfering with the processes of a Federal court but for any person who "corruptly or by threats or force endeavors to influence, intimidate, or impede any witness or officer in any court of the United States in the discharge of his duties, or corruptly or by force or threats obstructs or impedes or endeavors to obstruct or impede the due administration of justice." In his charge the court plainly stated that the jury would be detained in session for some time in view of possible overt acts threatened by the pretended friends of Alabama "home rule."

BAILEY'S IGNORANCE.

The Live Oak Democrat says: "In a speech he made the other day at a Confederate reunion in Texas, Senator Bailey exposed his horrible ignorance of the most celebrated climax in American history by stating that Grant rejected the proffered sword of Lee at the surrender at Appomatox. This is awful, coming from a United States Senator and one, too, supposed to be an unusually well informed man in the history of his own country. There was no offer of Lee's sword to Grant at Appomatox, after the fashion of the pictures in the old school histories of the surrender of Cornwallis and Burgoyne, and the fact has been so repeatedly stated on the highest authority, including Grant himself, that there is no excuse for any American citizen who knows how to read, to be ignorant on the subject. At Appomatox two sensible American soldiers, both of whom heartily despised ostentation and cheap dramatic effects, met to conclude a business transaction in a business way. Lee had no more thought of offering Grant his sword than he had of offering him his watch, and Grant had no more thought of demanding the former than the latter. When Bailey gets before an audience that will stand for it, he says some very absurd things at times, but he fairly surpassed himself in reviving the silly fiction of Lee handing his sword to Grant and the latter magnanimously returning it."

A man makes the mistake of his life to engage in the illicit sale of liquor. He may evade the clutches of the law for a short time, but he will eventually "run amuck." The "blind tiger" business is degrading to anyone who engages in it, and it is daily becoming more difficult for those charged with violating the law against the sale of liquor to secure bond for their appearance at court. Even the old "topers" disdain to patronize the "blind tiger," as the vile stuff he hands out is as mean as the individual who deals in it.

State Treasurer W. V. Knott is mentioned as a possible candidate for Governor. There is not a better man in Florida than Will Knott, and if he were to occupy the gubernatorial chair he would be Governor of the whole people, not of any particular faction.

The King of Siam is reported to have purchased a $75,000 thimble for one of his wives while visiting London recently. As he has something like 5,000 wives at home it is evident that his total expenditure for knickknacks is going to "be real interesting."

TARIFF AND PATENT MONOPOLY.

There never was a day in the history of cotton production in this country when one per cent of the enhancement of the price of cotton came from the tariff. Yet the tariff has increased the price of everything the planter or the laborer in his cotton field had to pay for plows, scrapers, shovels, axes, hoes, barbed wire, gearing gins, cotton-oil, mill machinery, clothing, sugar, salt—in fact every manufactured product. The same is true of other—all other—producers, except manufacturers. Some manufacturers have double monopolies. They have patent rights in addition to tariff protection. One or the other ought to be denied them. No monopoly should be allowed to rob people at its own will. The tariff on porducts made by a patent machinery or process should be abolished. If this were done the steel trust "protection" would no longer be worth a billion dollars, but only what the constitution secures to it as the value of its patents.

Only one thing seems absolutely certain about the strike of the telegraph operators and that is that the public is getting the worst of it. The telegraph is peculiarly a public service corporation, and a strike of the hurry-up lines is much the same thing to the business world as though there should be a general tie-up of the postal service. The big telegraph companies will not suffer at all by the strike. It will merely be a question with them of paying a few dollars less in dividends, and the officials will not eat a meal less or smoke a cigar the poorer. The operators and their families may suffer a little, considerably perhaps, if they lose. But the business world will suffer a great deal and the whole trade of the country will be hurt. Whether the demands of the striking operators are just or not, it is hard to say. The issue has not been clearly defined by either side. Both have indulged in the generalities of a man who is not quite sure of his case. But both the operators and the companies may be sure of one thing, and that is that they are driving the long-suffering public nearer to Government ownership by their family row. Of course there is no immediate prospect of such a solution of the difficulty, but every dispute between labor and capital in which the public is hurt drives that public nearer to experimenting a remedy that may or may not be worse than the disease.

The immunity bath is a curious development in modern legal practice, and the Department of Justice is now carefully considering the case of the Chicago & Alton officials whose testimony made possible the prosecution resulting in the now famous $29,000,000 fine against the Standard Oil Company. It is true that the officials of the road were promised immunity from prosecution on condition of furnishing testimony against the Standard. But it now appears that the Alton was concerned in the railroad gobbling on its own account before the rebate complication with the Standard arose. Now comes the question whether the officials can, or more properly speaking should be prosecuted for their part in this prior performance. It is just possible that the department will agree to let bygones be bygones. But the Attorney-General is studying over the matter carefully, and in spite of the immunity granted it one counts the road may be called to answer on another.

A Macon, Ga., man asks "Where are we meandering? Did you ever see the like in all your born days? Where are our vested rights invested? We can't take a drink, can't smoke a cigarette, can't ride on a free pass, can't sleep on a second sheet, can't talk to our members of the Legislature, can't arrest a nigger, can't cuss—can't do anything but pay taxes. Thank Heaven, we haven't taken that right away from us, but I'm looking for something more."

The attempt to scare the commuters in some of the States have reduced passenger rates by the railroads for the present is a dismal failure. If the commutation rates did not pay they would have abolished the price of commutation long ago. If the railroads are raised will not stir up more trouble than they now have to cope with.

The prohibition campaign in Kentucky is dead earnest in Kentucky.

"The commissioner of internal revenue has ruled that more than a million dollars was collected illegally in June, 1902, and that sum will be refunded. But what about the illegal tax on Southern cotton," says The Times-Union, "which is still held, though the supreme court declares the collection unconstitutional? The assertion that the owners cannot be found is a mere make-shift—send it to the States for distribution. There is always a way when a man wants to be honest."

Those Hendersonville, N. C., people who became so jealous of Dr. Clarence B. Strouse as to resort to an effort to defame his good name, have already realized their mistake. The Doctor is making a grand success of the Chautauqua, and has the confidence and support of the best people of the community. He will prosecute his defamers, it is said, in the courts, and some of them may have to "do time" for the State.

It is strange that some people will continue the illicit sale of whiskey in the face of the present law giving the prosecuting witness fifty dollars in case of conviction. Most people who patronize the "blind tiger" are none too good to swear away the liberty of a man for less than fifty dollars, and it would seem that this fact should deter any sane person from engaging in the illicit traffic.

It is reported that violation of the game law is of frequent occurrence in this neighborhood. Parties are almost daily seen leaving town with their guns and ammunition, and it is said that the partridges are being exterminated by these "pot" hunters. If such be the case the officers should bring them before the court to be dealt with according to law.

The interstate rate law has been of no benefit to Florida people, especially the newspaper men. The rate on newspaper from Richmond, Va., to Jacksonville is 22 cents per 100 pounds, and from Jacksonville to Gainesville 25 cents per hundred, yet The Sun has to pay 52 cents per hundred on through shipments from Richmond to Gainesville.

It would be a good idea for trial judges to clear the court room of all boys under eighteen years of age during the session of court. These youngsters manifest entirely too much curiosity concerning criminal cases, and are too free in their criticism of the action of the courts.

"When Chicago has a beautiful smokeless day," says The Record-Herald of that city, "it is merely a foretaste of what we shall have regularly in the way of atmosphere before long." After that, we suppose, Pittsburgers will be taking home chunks of it for souvenirs.

There has recently been entirely too much rowdyism in that section of the city known as Wall Street, especially late Saturday night or early Sunday morning. The working of a few of the parties engaged therein on the public streets would be a salutary lesson.

Water in the lakes, ponds and creeks in this vicinity is considerably higher than it has been for some time, though the rainfall for the past two months has not been very heavy. Lake Newnan is reported to be about twelve inches higher than it was two months ago.

The Saint-Gaudens design for new gold coins has been rejected because it is impossible to pile the coins neatly. As so many people, you know, are piling theirs nowadays.

Every time Rockefeller thinks about that thirty million dollars fine he thinks that the country is going to be ruined.

We are said to be at the end of the telegraph strike. But which end?

But An Appeal Was Taken to Circuit Court—Later Arrested by County Authorities, But Waived Examination and Gave a Second Bond.

From Wednesday's Daily Sun.

"Five hundred dollars and costs, or sixty days in jail."

That was the sentence imposed upon B. P. Beville, the young man who was arraigned in the mayor's court Tuesday morning upon a charge of selling intoxicating liquors in the city of Gainesville, in violation of the ordinance of the city.

The story of Beville's arrest has already been told in The Sun. He was arrested Saturday night by Policeman Kite, upon information from one R. H. Corbett, who told the officer that he had purchased a pint of rye whiskey from Beville, for which he paid seventy-five cents.

When arrested at his place of business Officer Kite searched the store, but was unable to find any liquor. He required the defendant, however, to furnish bail in the sum of $500 for his appearance before the mayor's court Monday morning.

Case Was Continued.

On Monday morning the defendant and his attorney, B. A. Thrasher, appeared in court, and upon motion of the defense the case was continued until Tuesday morning.

Tuesday's Session.

Promptly at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning the city court room was crowded with spectators interested in the outcome of the trial. State Attorney Rivers, who took the case in hand for the prosecution, was present, as was also Attorney Thrasher, the defendant and several of the witnesses.

Tried to Disqualify Mayor.

When Beville was arrested he made affidavit that Mayor Thomas was prejudiced in the case, that he could not get justice before him, etc., and asked that the case be tried by the president of the Council, but the mayor denied the motion and proceeded with the trial.

After taking the testimony the case was submitted to the court without argument, when Mayor Thomas passed sentence as above stated.

In Clutches of County.

Immediately after securing bond on appeal of the city case, Mr. Beville was arrested on a warrant sworn out by Sheriff Fennell for the county. He was taken before Justice Colman, waived examination and gave bond in the sum of $400.

MONTICELLO DIDN'T COME.

At Last Moment Manager Received News Not to Expect Them.

At the very last moment, when anticipation and excitement was running high among the Gainesville fans over the promised games between the Monticello and Oak Hall base ball teams, Manager Tison received information, with regrets, that it would be impossible at this time for the West Florida boys to come.

This information was indeed a bomb thrown among the fans, as they had anticipated some close and exciting work on the diamond. The Monticello team is one of the best amateur aggregations in the State, and the Oak Halls, realizing this, have been constantly practicing for the events.

It seems a difficult matter for the Oak Halls to secure a game at home. A few days ago they had arranged to play St. Augustine, when the Ancient City team failed to show up. Later, an effort was made to get a game with Jacksonville, but to no avail. It was thought sure the Monticello boys would come—but alas, the third disappointment stared them in the face.

The games between Monticello were to have been played Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons.

KILLED BIG RATTLER.

Mail Carrier DeBose, of R. F. D. No. 3, between Gainesville and Hague, had quite an experience on his return to Gainesville Tuesday, and an experience which, in the language of the Shakespearan play, Hamlet, caused his hair to "stand on end like quills on the fretful porcupine."

Near the bridge spanning Hogtown Creek, about two miles from the city square, and right in the middle of the road, DeBose encountered a tremendous rattlesnake. His snakeship wanted to show fight, when DeBose got out of his buggy to "put him out of business." Imagine his anxiety when he couldn't find a stick within a hundred yards of the spot big enough to kill a grasshopper; but something had to be done, and DeBose began heaving heavy lumps of dry clay at the reptile. His aim was good, and in a few well-directed shots his snakeship lay dead at his feet.

DeBose did not ask anybody to take his word for this remarkable story, but tied the reptile to the rear of his buggy and brought it to the city, where it attracted a great deal of attention.

The snake measured five feet eight inches, and was possessed of eleven rattles and a button.

LETTER FROM MRS. GRAHAM.

Has been Enjoying Life in North Carolina—Mr. Graham Improving.

A letter has been received from Mrs. J. M. Graham, who, with Mr. Graham, has been spending the past few weeks delightfully at Hot Springs, N. C.

Mrs. Graham requests that The Sun be discontinued to her address at Hot Springs, as they expect to leave in a day or two for various points, but would be in no place long enough to furnish an address. "If it were possible I would have the paper follow us, for we will miss it so much," she says.

Friends will be glad to learn that both Mr. and Mrs. Graham are enjoying fine health, Mr. Graham's condition being exceptionally fine.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham expect to arrive home about October 1.

ADVENT CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

The Advent Christian met Wednesday morning at 9:30 at the church on East Main street N., and after a brief business session listened to a very able and interesting sermon by Elder O. T. Mattox. Elder J. J. Butler was appointed to preach Wednesday evening.

Thursday evening at 7 o'clock the Ladies' Mission Society will give a very interesting program of songs, recitations, etc., which will be followed by a sermon by Elder H. V. Skipper.

We have present a young minister from Mendota, Ill., who will preach Thursday at 11 a. m.

A cordial invitation is extended to everybody to attend all services.

STEENBURG IN ILLINOIS.

Spending His Time at Chester Trying to Buy Shetland Ponies.

The city editor of the Sun is in receipt of a souvenir postal, also a copy of The Decatur (Ill.) Herald, from A. O. Steenburg, who is spending a few weeks in that city.

Mr. Steenburg is evidently intending to establish a Shetland pony farm in this section, as he is advertising for any number of Shetland ponies, from one to fifty. He has been talking some time of establishing such an enterprise, which he believes would prove a paying investment, and it is to be hoped he will be successful in purchasing as many of the little animals as he desires.

Wednesday's Fire.

An alarm of fire was turned in at 11:50 o'clock Wednesday morning, which summoned the department to the barn of J. B. [illegible], corner Franklin and East Seventh streets.

The fire was discovered before gaining much headway, however, and was extinguished with little damage.

NEWS OF CITY AND COUNTY CONDENSED

E. W. Millican, the naval stores operator of Waldo, was a business visitor to this city yesterday. He states that Mrs. Millican and little son are enjoying the exhilarating atmosphere in the vicinity of Asheville, N. C., which is proving of great benefit to the boy, who has been quite ill.

The rear of the Gainesville National Bank building, more familiarly known as the Endel block, is being transformed into a store. The walls on West Main street N. are being torn away, and a handsome glass front will take their place. This will be one of the most attractive stores in the city when finished.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Lyle have returned from DeLand, where they were called a few days ago on a mission of sadness—the death of the former's mother, which occurred Saturday, the interment being held the following day. The Sun, with other friends here, extends sympathy to Mr. Lyle in his bereavement.

J. R. Moorehead of Ocala, one of the most widely known civil engineers and surveyors of Marion county, is in the city. Mr. Moorehead was for several years county surveyor. He is not only efficient in his profession, but is one of the jolliest fellows in the country, and has many friends throughout the State.

After an absence of a year or more, during which time he has visited many cities of the United States, Harry Denton has returned to his home here, and his friends will be glad to learn that it is his intention to remain. Harry came direct home from Portsmouth, Va., where he has been for the past few weeks.

C. L. McLeod of Kendrick, a prominent citizen of Marion county, and for many years on the board of county commissioners of Marion, was in the city Tuesday and paid The Sun office a fraternal call. Mr. McLeod has many friends throughout this section, all of whom were glad to see him. He is one of the "pioneer politicians" of this section of the State.

Mrs. M. A. Miller and daughter, Miss Annie, passed through the city Tuesday from Micanopy, en route to Rock Hill, S. C., which place it is said they will make their future home. They have been residents of Micanopy for many years, and the good people of that town will regret exceedingly their removal, but will wish them much happiness and good health in their new home.

Col. John B. Dell has returned from Hague, where he has been looking after his farming interests. Col. Dell and his excellent family expect to leave at once for their country home at Hague, the duties of the former being required there at this season. Friends here will regret to see them leave. The Dell home in East Gainesville has been leased by R. D. Medlin of Williston, who will occupy same with his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Isom White, who have been residents of this city for the past few months, left Tuesday for their former home in Aurora, W. Va., where they intend to remain. Mr. White while here was one of the efficient salesmen in the store of Phifer & Morris, and was quite popular among the young people, as was also his wife in social circles. Friends regret very much to see them leave.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Palmer left yesterday for Green Cove Springs, where they expect to remain for the next few days. Mrs. Palmer's health has been none too good recently, and she goes to the springs with the hope that the water will prove beneficial to her. Should she experience an improvement Mr. and Mrs. Palmer will probably proceed to the Jamestown Exposition for a few weeks' outing.

Mrs. J. M. Haile, president of the Kirby Smith Chapter, U. D. C., at Gainesville, the second largest chapter in the Florida division, the Martha Reid Chapter coming first, is in the city, visiting her mother, Mrs. M. C. Drysdale. Mrs. Haile reports the Kirby Smith Chapter as being in a very flourishing condition, and in spite of the warm weather says that the members have been working hard. Recently, the chapter gave a $100 scholarship to the son of an old Confederate veteran, choosing him from many applicants. The scholarship is an annual one, and the University of Florida is the beneficiary. Mrs. Haile is very popular here in her old home, and her friends will be pleased to hear of the success of the chapter of which she is chief executive.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

JONESVILLE NEWS.

Jonesville, Aug. 28.—One of the most enjoyable days that has passed for some time was last Thursday, when quite a crowd from here and Newberry met on the shores of Horseshoe pond and had a fish fry. We succeeded in getting plenty of fish and the ladies proved themselves masters of the art of frying them, with the result that at dinner we had plenty of fish and everything else that is good to eat. We are looking forward to another "fry" next Thursday at Barrel pond.

This community was o'ercast with gloom at the receipt of the news of the death of Mr. B. Sapp, which occurred at Raleigh last Friday night about 11 o'clock. Mr. Sapp lived here when he was a child, and the family have many friends here who extend sympathy in this their hour of bereavement.

We were sadly disappointed last Sunday at the non-appearance of our pastor, Rev. G. T. Taylor, who is conducting a protracted meeting at High Springs. Sunday night, however, we had an able sermon from Rev Knight. The protracted meeting which was to have been this week is therefore postponed.

T. C. Scott made a business (?) trip here Sunday, as did also James Knight of Forest Grove.

Miss Clem Pickett spent a few days last week at Worthington.

J. W. Miller visited at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Miller, Sunday.

Misses Vola Siford and Ellie Byran, Messrs. Matthews, Hamilton, Stanfill and Garland of Newberry came to attend service Sunday, but with the rest of us were disappointed.

Miss Irene Miller visited Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Andrews of Tioga last Sunday. After dinner she returned home, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Andrews and Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Andrews and little boy, afterwards attending service.

THE SCHOOL BOARD.

Regular Meeting This Month on Monday Instead of Tuesday.

The regular meeting of the Board of Public Instruction, which is usually held on the first Tuesday of each month, will convene on the first Monday in September, being next Monday.

This change becomes necessary on account of the teachers' examination, which will begin here on Tuesday.

Those having business with the board will remember this change in date, and be on hand Monday.

Sunday School Party.

Another of those delightful parties of the Rocky Point Sunday school was given at the home of Mrs. W. R. Crown Monday evening, which was well attended, and it is needless to add the young folks enjoyed a fine evening.

These parties have been given regularly at Rocky Point during the summer, which not only elevated the young people socially, but had a tendency to "break the monotony of things."

Picnic at Oak Grove.

There will be a Farmers' Union picnic at Oak Grove on September 14. Everybody is cordially invited to come and enjoy the day with us.

Temperance speakers will address the people in the afternoon when business is over. K. W.

Root Better, Says Waldron.

New York, Aug. 28.—Secretary of State Elihu Root, who has already spent three weeks at the Saranac sanitarium of William G. Morgan, ex-champion wrestler, near White Plains, N. Y., taking a special treatment for nervous exhaustion, expects to complete his cure by the end of the month. He is now well on the road to recovery, and all reports for the information about his health seem to have disappeared.

17,000 Machinists May Strike.

New York, Aug. 28.—A strike of 17,000 machinists in Greater New York will probably be called this Monday. The men demand an increase in pay of 25 cents a day.

Some men have such a grievance against the publicity that they commit suicide rather than see their deeds, were they would not be printed unless they appear in the headlines.

THE AUTHORITATIVE FASHIONS FOR FALL

Mrs. Osborn, America's Foremost Modiste, Comments on the Relation of Climate to Styles.

Copyright 1907, The Delineator, New York.

"In thinking of styles today as compared with those of the past," says Mrs. Osborn in The Delineator for September, "when fashions were so fixed, so decided, I have come to the conclusion that there is one paramount difference, one paramount advance, namely: the reason back of changing fashions, the cause of innovations. That cause is the demand for comfort, the demand on the part of women for clothes that shall suit them, not somebody else."

Styles for Autumn manifestly confirm this trend. The women are gradually learning, also, that it is much more sensible to wear thinner fabrics in the fall and winter, regulating the warmth by having a supply of outer wraps to put on or take off as the temperature demands. In New York [illegible], where both the climate and centrally heated homes make thinner clothes comparatively even in midwinter, you will find lighter weight dresses in vogue. It is no longer thought necessary to scramble to buy a heavy cloth gown when September comes.

Winter gowns are now made more suitable for the street on account of the appearance of the long-coat. This garment, as well as very useful wrap to have, is likely to become quite the thing. In fact, it is inevitable as a companion to the lighter-weight gowns.

"But," continues Mrs. Osborn, "when I say that light-weight dresses should be worn all winter, I add the plea that women will not immediately fly off into the fury of impracticability. This fashion is no more expensive than heavy. They come in shades just as serviceable, and two long-coats are sufficient for all weather changes and certainly are not mad extravagance."

It is commendable that the cut of these coats is more suitable for general wear than in recent seasons. For example, the fitted back and the distinctly normal waistline. The correct length varies from forty-four to forty-five inches and for hard wear may be made of English worsted, covert, or homespun. Only one thing is demanded—the garment must permit a woman to go on the street warmly dressed without changing her thin gown.

It is not always possible to trace directly the source of a particular style of dress; but in this instance there is no difficulty. We can lay it largely to the climate. Our winters are by no means what they were. The whole scheme of weather seems to have shifted—late spring, summer in autumn, London rains instead of brisk winter. It has become an art to cope with the modern American climate. This vogue for thin dresses in winter will, no doubt, prove more than a vogue. It is written, written by the weather man, that until the seasons swing into some dependable stability, we must dress by the day and not by the calendar.

Even the theories of medical advisers enter into this matter of dress. Physicians now recommend an abundance of fresh air, a tonic and toughening of the system by facing all the rigors of climate and of making cold a tonic instead of a menace to health. Women are becoming more and more impressed by this one hygienic principle: clothes must be regulated by the wearer no matter at what season of the year.

Thus we are assured upon this fact: you will find no longer any notable difference between the materials for summer and winter. Many at first will call this absurd, crazy perhaps; but time will prove the assertion. Graceful, clinging fabrics, such as chiffon cloths, marquisette, crepe de Chine, the various silks, muslins even, will be found prevalent this winter when supplemented by the long coat.

Common sense is at last becoming operative in the matter of woman's dress. Today's styles are bearing the stamp of it. "It is far from sensible," Mrs. Osborn writes further, "that we should have been governed so long by the calendar, since back of the calendar is the weather. But many people go through life with the two telescoped. When they see October first staring them in the face, they bow to what they accept as the inevitable and buy woolen underwear. I find such people particularly aggravating. And I challenge any class of workers to meet more of them than does a person in my position. I long since decided that, to know a woman's real character, you must make a dress for her."

Although the thin gown is the most radical of the season's fashions, it will not be so conspicuous as its associate, the long-coat. This coat as shown in the Osborn models is adaptable to every occasion and may be fashioned of every sort of material—lightweight cloths, silks, or of something of more durability.

The long-coat, it is hoped, will prove valuable in another connection, that of lessening the use of the tiresome, stereotyped shirtwaist. Its prevalence is to be deplored, for strictly it has but two functions—for morning wear and with the short skirt for walking. Women who put them on and wear them all day can never consider themselves correctly dressed. Whole dresses are much more to be preferred.

It is just this long-coat that is going to encourage whole dresses as well as thin dresses; but there is a great danger in this becoming a popular wrap. You know what it is—it is the hackneyed model. Heavens spare us from a uniform of long-coats! There would be no escaping them. You would meet yourself every time you strolled up Fifth Avenue or any other street, from Maine to California. It has been so, has it not, with the long-hip coat and the plaited skirt? Whole armies of these products have paced the earth, no regiment of soldiers ever having looked more identically alike.

Now let the long-coats take warning from the plaited skirts. Make yours different or die. Remember that these long-coats are going to be copied because they will be a pronounce style. Conspicuous fashions always attract the women with no distinction of her own. So a word to the wise is sufficient. Have your long-coat different—or don't have any at all. There are always many modifications that a woman of taste can make that will stamp her wrap with her own individuality.

"Every woman her own designer," continues Mrs. Osborn, "would not be a bad watchword. Think! I say think! think before you buy. Insist upon something different, just different enough to lift you out of the crowd and yet keep you in the line of correct style."

America can never expect to lead in fashions as long as they don't carry personal conviction into their clothes—the men as well as the women. The men put on and take off their straw hats according to the calendar. Abroad a man wears a straw hat away into autumn if the weather is mild. Such a matter is really personal and not to be determined by the majority, who lack the courage of originality.

We are a young nation and we must learn. Every woman should endeavor earnestly to cultivate distinction in clothes; to take the initiative in freeing herself from the inanities of fashion. Her clothes should reflect herself, her charm, her impulses, her refinements.

"Just one word," concludes Mrs. Osborn, "to those women who accuse me of writing solely from the viewpoint of the rich. Obviously the rich are the people who can afford to experiment with clothes, and it is by watching them that we gain many valuable suggestions. But the primary laws of dress are applicable equally to the rich or poor. Although I am forced to illustrate from the expensive, I never fail to emphasize the simplicity of my art back of its expensive developments."

Will Pave Church Street.

A special meeting of the City Council was held Monday evening at which time an ordinance providing for the paving of Church street east from the intersection of that street with Oak avenue to Franklin street, East Gainesville, four blocks, was introduced and passed upon its first and second readings and ordered engrossed. This ordinance also provides for the cost of such work, and the issuing of special assessment city certificates.

TAFT AND ROOSEVELT.

How Their Recent Speeches Are Viewed at Washington.

Washington, D. C., August 27.—The speeches of Secretary Taft and President Roosevelt are, of course, the chief political news of the week. As the American people like their politics at first hand, it is hardly worth while to spend time bothering with what Mr. Taft says when we can get it hot from the griddle from the real oracle himself. As the President has been silent for such a long time—for him—what he now says has no doubt been carefully considered and must be taken as expressing his deliberate policy in dealing with public affairs. One of the most extraordinary statements ever made by a President of the United States is President Roosevelt's declaration that he should enforce the law against rich and poor alike. As that is the sworn duty of all Presidents, it should go without saying. The effort of politicians and financiers to induce the President to say "something reassuring" seems to have had effect, for he declared "that we have undertaken and will undertake no action of a vindicative type, and above all no action which shall inflict great or unmerited suffering upon the innocent stockholders and upon the public as a whole." This was taken by Wall Street as meaning that the administration would not "run amuck," and railroad and trust stocks closed at substantial advances. But President Roosevelt is a consummate politician, so for public consumption he berated "certain malefactors of great wealth" and said "they had combined to bring about as much financial stress as they possibly can in order to discredit the policy of the Government." Who did the President mean? Was it Rockefeller and Harriman, or the bankers? As Mr. Roosevelt has always been well disposed toward the money power, and has virtually allowed the frenzied financiers to dictate the policy of the United States treasury, he could hardly have had the bankers in mind, although it is known they are advising a let up in business and are refusing loans to their legitimate business customers. The financial trouble that prevails is mostly in consequence of the Republican policy of finance and always helping Wall Street when in trouble, and in this President Roosevelt follows the bad example of his predecessors.

The talk of Mr. Bryan's friends that the suggestion by Democrats of a Southern man for President comes from Wall Street influence is hardly born out by political conditions. The Republicans have always had the support of the Wall Street element since that party was able to elect a President. In return the Republican party has legislated in the interest of the corporations. If occasionally it has been necessary to appease the voters by enacting legislation against the predatory interests there has always been left a loophole in the law for the corporations and monopolists to continue their extortion, or escape punishment. Thus the Sherman anti-trust law and the railroad rate bill have accomplished nothing for the public, and the only real relief appears from State legislation, and that the Republicans and their Wall Street allies are trying to nullify. There is no prominent Democrat named as a prospective candidate for President, either from the South or from the North, that Wall Street could dominate. Wall Street may not just like President Roosevelt, but it would take him or Secretary Taft with avidity rather than any Democrat that has been seriously mentioned.

North Carolina Tragedy.

A recent report comes from Asheville, N. C., through the Associated Press, to the effect that Conductor J. W. Bronson of the Southern Railway was stabbed and probably fatally injured by Ed Miller, a well-known character, in an attempt to collect an old debt from Miller.

The wife of Captain Bronson, who is a niece of Mrs. Helen T. Chesnut and Mrs. A. R. Elmore, is well known here, where she has frequently visited from Columbia, S. C., her home.

ALLEN HAILE'S HOME BURNED MONDAY

Misfortune of One of Gainesville's Well Known Young Men.

THE ORIGIN WAS INCENDIARY

Entire Home and Contents Lost, Entailing Loss of About $2,000—No One on Premises But Colored Hand When Conflagration Occurred.

The elegant country home of Allen Haile, together with all its furniture, was burned to the ground sometime during Monday night, the origin being incendiary.

This home was located about twelve miles west of the city, and was one of the most comfortable in that section. The house contained five rooms, and was handsomely furnished.

There was no one on the premises at the time of the fire except a colored servant, who brought the news to the city.

The loss will aggregate between $1,800 and $2,000, with only $600 insurance.

A strange coincidence is the fact that the home of J. M. Haile, brother of Allen Haile, located only a couple of hundred yards apart, was burned of incendiary origin about two weeks ago.

Friends of Mr. Haile sympathize with him in the loss.

DEATH OF GOOD MAN.

Judge R. H. Stringfellow Passed to His Reward Saturday Night.

From Tuesday's Daily Sun.

This community was shocked Sunday at the information of the death of Judge R. H. Stringfellow of Hawthorn, one of the oldest and most widely known residents of the East End, which occurred at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. O. LaFontisee, Fernandina, Saturday.

Deceased was about sixty years of age, and had been a resident of this county for many years. He reared a large and interesting family, and was always one of the leading spirits of his community. He has been for many years a member of the Presbyterian Church, and was also a Mason, standing high in that order.

No particulars of the death could be learned, but it was ascertained that the remains were taken to Hawthorn, where the interment was held Sunday, the Masonic fraternity conducting the services.

Deceased is survived by a widow and several children, to whom the sympathy of the community is extended.

LETTER TO E. E. VOYLE,

Gainesville, Fla.

Dear Sir: We should like to print your opinion of this guarantee in this paper, where all your neighbors will see it:

We'll furnish the paint to paint half the house of any fair man on these terms: He shall paint the other half with whatever other paint he likes; same painter (any fair man) same way (the way of all fair painters, to make a good job). If our half doesn't take less gallons of paint by one-tenth to seven-tenths, we'll give him the paint. If our half doesn't take less paint by one-tenth to seven-tenths, we'll give him the paint. If our half isn't sounder three years hence, we'll give him the paint. If our half isn't sounder six years hence, we'll give him the paint. Any color.

We say one-tenth, because there are two or three paints with about that difference; we say seven—there are dozens of paints with about that difference—we say one to seven, because there's a hundred that waste one-third of the money paid for both paint and labor.

Is there a paint we haven't covered?

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & CO.

P. S.: The S. J. Thomas Co. sell our paint.

We do an exclusive Abstract business, with facilities for imparting Full information concerning the Title of and all lands in Alachua county. All business transacted promptly.

That our American forests abound in plants which possess the most valuable medicinal virtues is abundantly attested by scores of the best eminent botanical writers and teachers. Even the untutored Indians had discovered the usefulness of many native plants before the advent of the white race. This information, imparted freely to the whites, led the latter to continue investigations until to-day we have a rich assortment of most valuable American medicinal roots.

Dr. Pierce believes that our American forests abound in most valuable medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases, if we would properly investigate them; and in confirmation of this conviction, he points with pride to the almost marvelous cures effected by his "Golden Medical Discovery," which has proven itself to be the most efficient stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart tonic and regulator, and blood cleanser known to medical science. Dyspepsia, or indigestion, torpid liver, functional and even valvular and other affections of the heart yield to its curative action. The reason why it cures these and many other affections, is clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., to all sending request for the same.

Not less marvelous, in the unparalleled cures it is constantly making of women's many peculiar affections, weaknesses and distressing derangements, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as is amply attested by thousands of unsolicited testimonials contributed by grateful patients who have been cured by it of catarrhal pelvic inflammation, periodic, irregularities, prolapsus and other displacements, caused by weakness, ulceration of uterus and kindred affections, often after many other advertised medicines, and physicians had failed.

Both the above mentioned medicines are wholly made up from the glyceric extracts of native, medicinal roots. The processes employed in their manufacture were original with Dr. Pierce, and they are carried on by skilled chemists and pharmacists with the aid of apparatus and appliances specially designed and built for this purpose. Both medicines are entirely free from alcohol and all other harmful, habit-forming drugs. A full list of their ingredients is printed on each bottle-wrapper.

Where Love Is Life

I.

Oh, world, so green and wide
Why should we dwell with strife?
Roll us on, through storm and tide,
To the land where love is life!

II.

The daisies in the dew
Seem thankful for the rain;
The lilies all their life renew
Fair-robed, in heaven's light.

III.

And yet we sigh along,
And dream of desert strife
When life might be a [illegible]-sweet song
Thrilling with love and life!

Heard in the Lobby.

"You hear a good deal about 'after-dinner' speakers, but nothing about 'after-supper' ones."

"Oh, by that time they're too full for utterance."

Time and Tide.

Mister Time an' Mister Tide say:
"Ef it's stormy sky or blue,
We gwine des a-flyin'—
You must rise an' foller, too!"

A long poem, just out, is called "The Song of the Seven Stars." But we don't want to see any more stars than Trouble has made us see already—whether they sing or not.

When the Poor Can Take a Ride.

We'll reach the land o' promise—
See the shady "other side."
Where the automobiles is cheaper
An' the poor can take a ride!

It costs to be in fashion,
An' fashion leads you wrong;
The ox-cart is lots heavier:
"Gee—haw, thar! Git along!"

"De rich man," says Brother Williams, "can't take his riches ter heaven with him, but many sho' kin make him have a high old time on de heavenly road!"

A True Philosopher.

It takes a true philosopher to look at it in this way:

"Dad, yer house is afire!"

"I know it. Warm your hands whilst it's burnin', an' the coal take the coal trust next winter."

Log Cabin Philosophy.

Let us look to the log. Even if it blinds us, we had a right time looking at it.

The furrow looks best when you're plowing the mule, for there's rest and a shady tree at the end.

Heaven isn't built with hammers and nails, but some of us have got to hammer mighty hard at it before we get in.

The hills look mighty high, and that's why we want to go there; but getting to the top is one thing, and rolling down another.

"Kick up all the dust you want to in the middle of the road," says an old time philosopher, "but take care it don't blind you so's you can't see ten steps ahead of you."

The Good Times.

Don't the city's toil an' trouble, when the summer days are long,
Make you wish for quiet valleys where the silence is a song?
Ain't you just a little longing for the hills—the waterfall,
Hedged and hampered in a city where a memory is all?

Tough Proposition.

"The devil take him!"

"Hush! 'Twixt you and me, I don't think the devil wants him!"

The saying is, "Hope springs eternal," and when she is ready to spring it is a good idea to take hands and go with her.

One may even make Poverty feel rich by telling Trouble: "Good morning! Here's a health to you!"

A Petition.

Let this be our constant prayer—
Not a theme for laughter:
May we find the fire here,
But not, please heaven! hereafter!

The scientific brethren are busy weighing worlds for us. Oh, that they could only tell us how to reach out and stake off some of them!

Sermon from Experience.

"One way ter beat Satan," said the colored deacon, "is ter rise up early an' keep in de furrow fum sunup ter sundown; an' yit, w'en a man does dat faithfully six days in de week he almos' feels lak' gwine ter whar Satan lives at fer a vacation!"

At the Piano.

"She seems to have a fine touch," said the guest, "but, to save me, I can't tell what she's drivin' at!"

"Why, man," replied the landlord, "she's a playin' in dialect!"

We haven't heard anything lately of the Society of Popular American Novelists. They've all got rich enough to go into Wall street.

His Seasonable Sermon.

"That's twice, in two weeks, the preacher took the text, 'All liars shall have their portion in the lake that burneth with fire and brimstone.'"

The old deacon looked solemn. Then he reached a hand over, and said:

"Bill, old boy, let's you an' me quit the fishin' business!"

When we board the Prosperity train sometimes the engineer makes it go so fast we're soon in a big wreck.

So Much Joy.

I.

So much joy in this old world
Early morn an' late,
We need a little trouble
To keep us goin' straight!

II.

An' though the trouble's seemin'
A mighty heavy load,
Sometimes it serves to lead us
To the hallelulia road!

Word from Br'er Williams.

"Some folks will never reach de high hills er life onless you git a block en tackle en haul 'em up!"

The Popular Liver Medicine Will Keep You Well

A GUARANTEED CURE for all diseases produced by TORPID LIVER and IMPURE BLOOD. Do not fill your system with Arsenic, Calomel and Quinine. It carries off all poison in the system and leaves no injurious effects.

CURED BY HERBINE AFTER OTHER REMEDIES FAILED

Mr. L. A. Hicks, Iredell, Texas, says: "I was sick in bed for eight months with liver trouble, the doctor seemed to do me no good. I was told to try Herbine, and it cured me in a short time. I cannot recommend this wonderful medicine too highly."

Bondholders to Enter Suit.

Savannah, Ga., Aug. 27.—Saturday the third income bondholders in Savannah received telegraphic inquiries from Lazard Freres, a French firm on Wall street, advising them that the firm would go into court.

They propose to contest in a legal way the decision of the Central of Georgia railroad directors withholding the dividends on the four millions of third income. This firm called on the bondholders here to know if they could be assured of their co-operation in such a suit. So far as known all of the holders of these securities have wired that they would enter into this agreement. The French firm owns about one-half the third income bond issue.

Bathers Eaten by Sharks.

Vienna, Aug. 27.—Two bathers have been eaten by sharks within the last few days off the Austrian Adriatic coast. Josef Silvovic was out Voglia, when his friend heard him utter a piercing cry, and turning around saw him being dragged under the water. A young woman, who was a school teacher, met a similar fate. A reward of $5 for every shark caught is paid to fishermen by the authorities, but as the plague has so much increased of late it is intended to fit out a special vessel to fish for them.

Shot Wife; Killed Self.

New York, Aug. 27.—Bernard Delaney, first sergeant of company M Sixty-ninth regiment and assistant janitor of the armory, shot his wife in their apartment house Friday morning and killed himself. The bullet entered Mrs. Delaney's right ear. She is in Flower hospital, and the doctors think she will recover. Drink caused the tragedy.

Judging from the quantity of lumber being hauled to North Gainesville, that thriving suburb is keeping up its reputation as a hustling section. There is considerable building going on in that section, among which are homes being erected by L. W. Jackson and Mr. Malphurs.

Col. I. E. Webster has received a letter from his good wife, who is spending the summer at her old home, Dummer, Vt., to the effect that she is enjoying her visit immensely, and that the weather is delightfully cool. Friends of the lady will be pleased at this information.

Information was received in this city yesterday of the arrival of a fine girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Wind, Live Oak, Saturday night. Mrs. Wind was formerly Miss Jernigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Jernigan, of this city, and friends here extend hearty congratulations.

O. C. Tousey and daughters, Misses Nina and Annie, are at home again, after a delightful visit of several weeks to their old home in Cloverport, Ky., and other points in the Blue Grass State. Friends are glad to have them home again, and glad also to know that their sojourn proved of great benefit.

W. T. Waters of Lake Simonton was in town Sunday and renewed his subscription to The Sun. He is now the possessor of probably the finest well of water in that section, the depth being 142 feet, and the water as cool as that which comes from any spring in Florida. Mr. Stevenson of Boardman drilled the well, and Mr. Waters speaks in the highest terms of his work.

Deputy Sheriff L. E. Story of Windsor was in the city Saturday. He brought a negro, Jim Williams, convicted more than a year ago in this county for whipping his wife, but who got away while the officer was taking him to camp. Williams was captured at Eau Gallie by Mr. Story, who ascertained his whereabouts and captured him without trouble. He must now serve his time.

W. W. Ellis and two children of Brooksville passed through the city en route home from Macon, Ga., where they were summoned on a sad mission—that of attending the funeral of wife and mother. Mrs. Ellis died in Atlanta Monday night, and the remains were taken to Macon, her former home, for interment. Mr. Ellis, who is a conductor on the Atlantic Coast Line, is well known in this section, and his friends extend sympathy.

It will be gratifying to the many friends of James H., the young son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Fisher of North Gainesville, to learn that he is now on the road to recovery from a recent severe attack of typhoid fever in Louisiana, where he went several months ago. In a letter to his mother he states that he is now clear of fever, and that as soon as he is able he expects to go from Louisiana to Manistee, Ala., where his father and brothers are now engaged in their profession as brickmasons.
